

GENERAL MOBILIZATION BEGINS IN ITALY

PROVINCES ARE IN A "STATE OF WAR"

Proclamation Is Made By Italian Ministers of War and Marine

CUT COMMUNICATIONS

Rome Paper States Von Hindenburg Will Command Armies Against Italy

AMBASSADOR LEAVES VIENNA

ROME, via Paris, May 23—(12:20 a. m.)—General mobilization will begin Sunday. The ministers of war and marine have proclaimed a state of war in the Italian provinces bordering on Austria in the islands and cities along the Adriatic coast as well as all the fortresses which will be declared in a state of defence.

The above despatch confirms the despatch from Rome through the Stefani Agency which was received earlier from London.

Communications Are Cut.
Paris, May 23—(5:03 a. m.)—The Havas Agency announces that all communications with Italy were cut at midnight.

Patrol Crosses Frontier.
Rome, May 23, via London, May 23—(4:25 a. m.)—The Giornale d'Italia says that an Austrian patrol has crossed the frontier. The few Germans left in Rome have taken refuge in the Chinese legation.

According to this paper the announcement has been made that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg will take command of Austro-German troops against Italy.

Ambassador Leaves Vienna.
Paris, May 22—The Rome correspondent of the Havas Agency says that the Messagerio representative in Vienna sends the following despatch:

"The Italian ambassador, the Duke of Avarna, leaves today for Rome.

"Austria has asked the United States to take over the protection of Austrian subjects in Italy. The American government has transmitted instructions to its ambassadors in Austria and Italy."

Interview Sominio.
Rome, May 22, via Paris, May 23—(1:58 a. m.)—Prince Von Buelow, German ambassador to Italy, Baron Von Macchio, Austrian ambassador at Rome and Baron Von Hindenburg, counselor of the German embassy here, today had what is considered as their last interview with Baron Sonnino, Italian minister of foreign affairs.

Prepare for Final Rupture.
London, May 22—(10:20 p. m.)—Only the formal declaration of war now is necessary to complete the breach between Italy and her former allies of the triple alliance and this is expected at any moment.

The ambassadors are still at their posts but news comes that the Italian consul at Munich has been ordered to return to Rome and throughout the three countries the respective nationals are packing up their belongings in anticipation of a final and official rupture.

Would Influence Balkan States.
Should a rupture come it is not expected that it would have any immediate effect on the battles now in progress, but it would be likely to influence the action of the Balkan states which have been waiting Italy's decision. Roumania, it is reported tonight has received assurances from Bulgaria that if Roumania decides to join the allies and go to the assistance of Russia by an invasion of Transylvania, Bulgaria will not attack her and that, in fact, Bulgaria herself is considering the possibility of taking similar action, although her attack would be directed against Turkey.

Greece also is interested in the development and her efforts, if she should decide to join the allies, would be directed to the Dardanelles and Asia Minor. In these latter theatres of operations the allies continue their activities and the official report issued today records further progress and confirms the despatch sent by General Sir Ian Hamilton to Australia that in attack on the Australian and New Zealand positions the Turks suffered a loss of 7,000 men, of whom 2,000 were killed.

This report does not mention the operations against Smyrna but from Turkish and other sources it is learned that the allies are almost as active there as they are on the Gallipoli peninsula.

Little Change in Battle Fronts.
There is little or no change in

AMERICAN AVIATOR IS KILLED IN MEXICO

WOUNDED AIRMAN TELLS OF DEATH
OF HIS COMPANION IN FIGHTING

Villa and Obregon Armies are Gradually Drawn Into a General Engagement—Carranza Moves His Headquarters.

El Paso, Texas, May 22.—Fighting in central Mexico gradually increased in volume last week until early yesterday morning, the Villa and Obregon armies were drawn into a general engagement, according to statements tonight by persons arriving here directly from the Villa front.

Farnum F. Fish, an American aviator employed by the Villa army, has arrived here, having been wounded in the fighting last week. One bullet passed through his leg and body and several others struck his aeroplane which he managed to retain in the air. Fish reported that his companion, Micky McGuire, also employed as an aviator by Villa, was killed last Tuesday while returning from a scouting expedition. He fell 200 feet.

Those arriving from the front tonight reported that the battle line extends east and west from a point ten miles south of Leon, in virtually the same positions occupied by the two armies for the last month. As far as could be learned no great advantage had been gained by either side.

Carranza Moves Headquarters.
San Antonio, Texas, May 22.—Demonstrations by hungry unemployed and others opposed to the policy of the Carranza government occurred in Vera Cruz before he left there a week and as a result Carranza has moved his headquarters to Puebla, according to a statement made by Alonzo Thorea, a merchant of Vera Cruz who arrived here today.

"Strict censorship is maintained by Carranza on all news sent out of Vera Cruz," said Thorea.

NEW INVENTION PERMITS A PERSON
TO SEE THROUGH A BRICK WALL

NEW YORK, May 22.—William Marconi, inventor of the wireless telegraph, made it known today before sailing for Italy, says the Evening World, that he has invented an apparatus by means of which it is possible for a person standing beside a solid partition, such as a brick wall, to look through the partition and observe what is happening on the other side, just as if there were no obstacle interposed to the vision.

Mr. Marconi is quoted as saying that the device has been perfected to the point where persons in a room can see persons in an adjoining room, looking through the wall, if the persons viewed are close to the wall.

GERMAN AVIATORS FLY OVER
PARIS AND DROP THREE BOMBS

PARIS, May 22.—German aviators flew over Paris at dusk this evening in an aeroplane disguised as a French machine. Because of the disguise the French air scouts allowed it to pass the frontier, believing that it was one of their own aeroplanes.

Flying high over the city the German aviators dropped three bombs. One of the bombs fell in the Seine close to Eiffel Tower, another on outbuildings of the Bon Marche store and the third in Rue St. Charles. All three bombs were ineffective and virtually no damage was done. The German aeroplane was driven off by a French machine.

PULTZ DENIES REPORTS.
New York, May 22.—Reports that the major league baseball players were contemplating a strike because of the Players' Fraternity were denied by the National commission, were characterized as "silly" by David Pultz, president of the fraternity today.

The reports grew out of conferences held by Pultz with fraternity members on various teams that have come to New York within the past fortnight.

RENEW EFFORTS TO RE-OPEN RAILROAD.

Washington, May 22.—Efforts to re-open railroad communication between Mexico City and Vera Cruz with a view to relieving the food situation were renewed today by the state department. Consul Silliman at Vera Cruz and the Brazilian minister in the capital were requested to urge the Carranza and Villa officials to permit food shipments on the line. The international relief committee in Mexico City it was stated, could handle the transportation problem could be settled.

PITCHED BALL KILLS BOY.

Quincy, Ill., May 22.—Charles Seymour, a sixteen year old high school student of Payson, was instantly killed when struck by a pitched ball during a game between high school teams this afternoon.

DIPLOMATISTS BELIEVE OPENING OF HOSTILITIES NOT FAR OFF

Possibility of Entrance of Roumania, Bulgaria and Greece Into War Continues as a Subject of Speculation.

Washington, May 22.—It was believed tonight that the opening of hostilities between Italy and Austria would not long be delayed and that such delay as has occurred was due to the fact that Italy's military preparations had not been completed. The possibility of the entrance into the war of Roumania, Bulgaria and Greece continued as a subject of speculation. Among diplomatists of the Germanic cause, it was suggested that the operations in the Dardanelles within the next two or three weeks probably would have an important bearing on the attitude of the Balkan states. They believed that should the allies fail to penetrate the Dardanelles, the three states would remain neutral but that a victory by the allies might considerably change the course of events. On the other hand it is claimed in well informed quarters that Roumania has a definite agreement with Italy and will follow the Rome government in every step taken.

The severance of relations between Italy and Austria even to the limited extent to which it has already taken place involving the cutting of the telegraph and railroad lines has made it necessary for the state department to find another route for communication with Berlin and Vienna. Heretofore mails and cablegrams have been sent to these capitals by the French cable and land lines to Rome, whence they were relayed Austria and Germany. The state department is now considering the routing of cablegrams via the Hague or Copenhagen. Mails probably will go via Sweden or Denmark.

GERMAN ANSWER IS EXPECTED
IN WASHINGTON LATE THIS WEEK

Advices From Gerard Give No Indication of Character of Reply Other Than That it will be Friendly in Tone.

Washington, May 22.—Advices received from Ambassador Gerard within the last few days, it became known tonight, have given no intimation as to the character of the German reply to the recent American note beyond the generality that it will be friendly in tone. The German answer is expected to reach Washington late next week. Until then the situation as between the United States and Great Britain over alleged violation of international law in connection with the British order-in-council will not be developed by officials here. After the German note is received however, it is practically certain that representations on the general subject of the commercial embargo imposed by the allies on intercourse with Germany will be made.

There is no tendency among officials here to under estimate the seriousness of the situation which may result in the event of an unfavorable reply from Berlin to the American representations. On one particular it is known that the Washington government will insist—complete disavowal of any intention to destroy American lives and full reparation for injuries sustained. If the German reply should cover this point satisfactorily, it is felt that arrangements for the future safeguarding of American citizens can then be approached through further diplomatic correspondence for it is expected that the German reply passenger and contraband traffic on it will suggest arrangements whereby belligerent merchantmen might be separated.

TO SELL WABASH JUNE 23.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Announcement was made tonight that the Wabash railroad would be sold under foreclosure on June 23rd. It was explained that on that date the representative of the district court in charge can adjourn the sale to a later date if re-organization plans have not been completed.

On April 22nd, United States Circuit Judge Adams authorized the sale of the road at $21,000,000 instead of $34,000,000 the amount previously fixed.

GAINING GROUND SLOWLY.

Vienna, via London, May 22—(7:20 p. m.)—The Austro-German allies are gaining ground slowly in the great battle now in progress in central Galicia, according to an announcement made at the war office today as follows: "Fighting is proceeding in middle Galicia. The allied troops have maintained the territory gained against all Russian counter-attacks. In slowly progressing attacks we are gaining further ground daily."

BLOW UP BARRACKS.

Verona, Italy, May 22.—The Austrian barracks at Rovereto, a town in the Tyrol, with about twelve thousand Italian inhabitants, was blown up today.

The police immediately placed under arrest many Italian citizens, although there was no evidence to show that the Italians were in any way responsible for the explosion.

War News Summarized

All Italy awaits the call to arms. The ministry has set its face for war and the general mobilization of the army and navy by order of the king probably is now under way.

The ministers of war and marine, according to a Rome despatch from the Stefani Bureau, have declared a state of war in the provinces along the Austrian frontier and the islands and communities on the Adriatic.

While this is not a declaration of war, it is the customary precautionary action taken in a grave crisis, when the next step may carry the country into actual hostilities.

Thousands of Austrian troops are facing the soldiers of Italy along the frontier. There have been clashes on the border.

The barracks of an Austrian regiment at Rovereto, in Tyrol has been blown up. Many Italians reside in that town and the Austrian authorities are arresting them.

The Italian consul-general has been ordered by his government to leave Munich.

The announcement is made from London that the British coalition cabinet is now definitely in process of formation.

Baron Rudan Von Rajecz, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, yesterday handed to the Italian ambassador at Vienna a note expressing "painful surprise" at Italy's decision to terminate the triple alliance and declining to shoulder the responsibility for the consequence.

Paris was again subjected last night to an aerial attack. A German aeroplane dropped three bombs while passing over the city.

Fighting in the west has subsided once more. In Galicia the Austro-German advance is proceeding less rapidly but apparently the Russians still are being pushed back.

ROUTE OF THE DIXIE HIGHWAY'S
ADOPTED BY COMMISSIONERS

Chicago is Selected as the Northern Terminus and Miami as the Southern—Officials are Elected.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 22.—The Dixie Highway from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico was given definite form here today when the commissioners from seven states adopted the route of the highway after a three day session. Chicago was selected as the northern terminus and Miami as the southern.

Tonight's session C. E. James of Chattanooga was elected president of the association. Among the vice presidents elected are: Thomas Taggart for Indiana and H. B. Hanger for Illinois. The principal cities of the routes selected follow:

West route—Chicago, Watska, Danville, Ill.; Covington, Crawfordsville, Indianapolis, Bloomington, Ind.; Louisville, Bowling Green, Ky.; Nashville, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Rome, Atlanta, Macon, Ga.; Tallahassee, Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Palm Beach, Miami, Fla.

East route—(Joining west at Indianapolis)—Richmond, Ind.; Dayton, Cincinnati, Ohio; Chattanooga, Tenn.; Atlanta, Jackson, Macon, Ga. (East route from Macon to Jacksonville to be selected later.)

The association reserved the right to re-locate any portion of the highway where a county or municipality failed to complete its link in the year allowed.

AUTOMOBILE LOAD OF DYNAMITE
EXPLODES; FOUR ARE KILLED

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 22.—Four were killed, three fatally injured and seventeen others seriously hurt here this afternoon when an automobile load of dynamite to be used to search for the body of a drowned boy exploded. Several women are among the injured.

Frank Ross of Brewerton, in charge of the dynamite, James Hughes, a county morgue attendant; Vincent Genslews, aged 14 and an unidentified baby boy are dead. About 75 sticks of dynamite were in the automobile.

CHARGES SLUSH FUND
IS BEING COLLECTED

Chicago, May 22.—Charges that a slush fund is being collected among members of the police department and some saloon-keepers for the defense of police officials indicted accused of grafting from criminals, were made by Maclay Hoyne, state's attorney today. Hoyne also declared that a corps of policemen is being mustered by the defense to influence prospective jurors.

FINDS HEADLESS BODY IN RIVER

Kansas City, May 22.—The headless body of a young woman was found tonight floating in the Missouri river a few miles east of here. According to the authorities the body had been in the water about ten days. A number of mysterious disappearances of women from Kansas City have been reported in the last two weeks.

ITALIAN CRISIS OCCUPIES ATTENTION IN GERMAN CAPITAL

Little is Heard of Lusitania Case—It is Stated Germany's Answer Cannot be Expected Before Tuesday or Wednesday.

Berlin, May 22.—Via London—(9:22 p. m.)—The Italian crisis occupies the attention of all classes here.

Little is heard of the Lusitania case and it is stated that Germany's answer to the American note cannot be expected before next Tuesday or Wednesday. It would now be no surprise if the German reply, in addition to a defense of the German position regarding submarine warfare and particularly of its reason for the sinking of the Lusitania, with the alleged shipment of ammunition, should contain certain proposals which might serve as a basis for further negotiations between Germany and the United States.

America's compromise proposal made in a previous communication for a cessation of submarine and mine warfare in return for an abandonment by Great Britain of her starving oil policy will almost certainly be referred to.

It will be pointed out that Germany's acceptance in principle of the suggestion is still in force.

It is not at all improbable that Germany also will advance an alternative suggestion that the United States permit its nationals to travel on ships belonging to belligerents only if these vessels are certified by the United States as having no munitions of war aboard and that such certified ships would not be subject to torpedoing without notice.

Reports circulated in the United States recently that Germany and proposed arbitration are authoritatively denied here.

FORMATION OF THE COALITION
CABINET TAKES DEFINITE SHAPE

No Announcement Will be Made Until After the Whitsun Holidays.

London, May 22.—(9:25 p. m.)—The formation of the coalition cabinet has taken definite shape but no announcement will be made until after the Whitsun holidays, Premier Asquith, several of his late colleagues and the Unionists who are to assume office having left for the country after a series of conferences.

Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, whose quarrel with Baron Fisher, first sea lord, was largely responsible for his resignation, was today in the hands of the various departments at the admiralty. It is said there is a possibility that he will not accept a place in the new administration and that for the duration of the war he will content himself with a seat among the private members of the House of Commons.

It is almost certain however, that David Lloyd-George will remain as chancellor of the exchequer and that Reginald McKenna, the Marquis of Crewe, A. J. Balfour, Andrew Bonar Law, J. Austen Chamberlain and the Marquis of Lansdowne will be included in the new ministry.

It is expected that a privy council will be held Tuesday, when the outgoing ministers will hand over the seals of office to their successors.

The new ministers will then have to resign and submit themselves for re-election but no contests are contemplated.

ROCKEFELLER ENTERS DENIALS TO CHARGES

ARE FRAMED AS BEING ALLEGATIONS
BROUGHT BY STRIKERS

According to Commissioner Weinstock Charges, Would, if Sustained, Lay at Door of Operators the Responsibility for Happenings in Colorado Strike.

Washington, May 22.—Concluding his two day examination by the industrial relations commission today John D. Rockefeller, Jr., entered denials to three charges which, if sustained, would, according to Commissioner Weinstock, "lay at the door of the Colorado mine operators" the responsibility for the unfortunate happenings in the Colorado coal strike. The charges were framed and presented by Commissioner Weinstock as being, in brief, the allegations brought against the operators by the strikers. When Chairman Walsh finished questioning Mr. Rockefeller, Commissioner Weinstock presented a letter to the latter which set forth a preliminary statement in which the commissioner reviewed the commission's inquiry into Colorado conditions.

Make Three Specific Charges.
"What I have been able, in brief, to get out of it all," it read, "is that the strikers and their sympathizers make three specific charges."

"That at no time after the strike could they get a hearing at the hands of the operators."

"That the civil and judicial machinery for obtaining such justice as the law affords was in the hands of the operators and not available to the strikers."

"That the operators, through their agents, were the first to resort to violence and that all the violence which followed was defensive on the part of the strikers and not offensive."

If these three charges have been established then it must be plain that the responsibility for the unfortunate happenings in Colorado must clearly be laid at the door of the operators and the strikers are entitled to all support and sympathy of the American people."

Answering the first charge Mr. Rockefeller said:

"The representative of the unions so far as I know, have not met in conference with the operators; but the striking miners, as I understand it, were present at a meeting called by Governor Ammons on November 26th, where they met three of the operators with the governor and discussed the situation."

Always Ready to Meet Men.
"The Colorado Fuel & Iron company," he continued, "have always been ready to meet with their men or with their representatives whom the men they may elect—men working in the mine. As to whether the civil and judicial machinery were in the hands of the operators and not available to the strikers, I am not in a position to state. I think the fact is that the election which took place in Colorado in the fall, turning out as it did, would indicate that the ballot is still powerful in that state to represent the will of the people."

Discussing the final charge as to the beginning of violence in the strike, Mr. Rockefeller asserted:

"I naturally regret the blame the question of where the blame may have been on the part of the strikers was on the part of the strikers when one of the camp marshals was killed."

Ivy L. Lee on Stand.
When Mr. Rockefeller left the stand Ivy L. Lee, publicity agent for the Rockefeller interests, was asked to explain the suggestion that Governor Ammons of Colorado write a letter to President Wilson and governors of the state to clear up facts regarding the strike. Lee said that Major Edward J. Boughton of Colorado had conferred in New York with Mr. Greene, formerly director of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company. Boughton, he said, was sent to New York to Governor Ammons who was anxious to get the facts more adequately before the public.

Lee said he suggested to Boughton through Greene that the governor write a letter to President Wilson and governor of the state, setting forth the situation as he saw it.

A memorandum of such a letter was drafted by him, Lee said, but Major Boughton informed him later that nothing further ever was done with it.

TRADE ADVISERS END CONFERENCES

Announce Suspension of Consultations With British Embassy Officials

AWAIT UNDERSTANDING

U. S. Manifests Determination
Not to Be Bound By British Order-In-Council

EXPECT BRITISH STATEMENT

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(The determination of the United States government not to recognize or be bound by the provisions of the British order-in-council which declared an embargo on all commercial intercourse directly with Germany as well as inward or outward bound through neutral countries, was manifested in several ways today. The foreign trade advisers of the state department announced that they had decided to suspend all conferences with British embassy officials here with reference to the informal arrangements to assist American cotton exporters in obtaining payment for cargoes detained and also to secure for American importers of American made goods in Germany contracted for before the order-in-council went into effect.

Ask Meaning of Statement.
Ambassador Page at London was instructed to inquire of the British foreign office the meaning of the statement made in their memorandum issued on Thursday that the terms of an arrangement between cotton representatives and the British government were acceptable to the United States government.

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador here, called on Secretary Bryan during the day to explain that he also had always understood that the United States government was not to be considered as having recognized the British order-in-council, irrespective of the assistance given the cotton shippers by the foreign trade advisers of the state department.

Officials Are Reticent.
While officials of the department were reticent concerning the differences referred to by the advisers, they are understood to relate to correspondence between the British officials and the advisers, that refer to the treatment of American goods.

The time limit for the shipment out of Germany of American goods ordered before March 1, was set for June 1st but the British government announced several days ago that this period had been extended to June 15.

In granting this concession British officials are understood to have referred to it as a concession to the United States government and this, as well as other features of the plan, whereby American-owned goods to be removed to other ports were of such a character as to cause a legal recognition of the British order-in-council.

Merchants Can Negotiate.
Until a definite understanding is reached on the plan for the handling of American-owned goods is vitally changed, the foreign trade advisers will not participate in any conferences on behalf of American importers or exporters. Individually, American merchants of course can continue their negotiations with the British government either through the British embassy here or at London.

British embassy officials here were silent as to the causes of the difficulty and there is some reason to expect a statement clarifying the situation from the British foreign office or through the embassy here.

The board of education session last night was brief and harmonious and it is recorded that the vote was unanimous in favor of the State street paving proposition. It is something new to use the word unanimous in referring to board meetings but in it is understood that the school charter, the general law, appointments etc. were taboos subjects.

At noon July 4th millions of voices all over the United States will join in singing the verses of "The Star Spangled Banner". There never has been any lack of patriotism in the United States but world events recently have seemed to bring a more exalted patriotism than in the past and the indications are that the 1915 Fourth of July celebrations will take on a new meaning and enthusiasm.

Marconi's reported announcement of an invention which will make it possible to discern objects through a brick wall strikes one at first thought as promising something woefully impossible. Yet such an achievement would seem hardly more wonderful than others made with science and invention in the last decade. Think of the wonderful aid to medicine and surgery the Marconi device would bring. And where will privacy go if men can look through walls and partitions?

The scores of applicants for city jobs have been greatly interested in reports that the mayor and commissioners have held at least three night conferences during the past week, each one lasting for several hours. This interest has been lessened however, by the further report that these conferences have been held not so much for the purpose of considering or agreeing upon appointments as for the purpose of devising ways and means for economizing and making "ends" meet. Economizing it is further understood, is likely to mean the abolishment of several positions and thus fewer appointments.

There is a general feeling that something should be done about connecting up the new state aid road with the Hardin avenue pavement yet nobody has thus far come forward with a plan really feasible at this time. Farmers who live along or near the hard road have raised a considerable fund and are ready to co-operate with city people for making the space between the western terminus of the improvement and the Hardin avenue pavement conform with the hard road. It would not be fair to property owners to do all of this work by special assessment. The city has no funds available for the work and it is evidently a matter which requires some new improvement ideas if the very desirable end is to be accomplished with any speed.

England Wants No Tariff Changes. Frederick J. Addison, agent for a New York business house, having returned after three months touring Great Britain, says in an interview, that "even in the midst of the greatest war in history, the manufacturers of England are taking a keen interest in the events bearing on the next National election in this country. They fear that a Republican victory will mean the restoration of a protective tariff. The lower duties in the new tariff law opened up a much wider market for the different grades of textile goods and also offered opportunities for low-priced goods that previously had been practically prohibited from the American market by the high duty."

Mr. Addison says he was informed that the value of woollens and worsteds exported from England to this country in November, 1913, was greater than for the whole year of 1912. "It was the United States that saved that part of industrial England," he continued. "With the probability, therefore, that the Republicans will make the tariff the issue in the coming National campaign the Englishmen are not in a jovial frame of mind when contemplating what may happen."

England Faces the Facts. It is a noticeable fact in the English papers which reach the United States that there is no effort made to cheer the people by giving any too optimistic pictures of the war. English reverses are told in great detail and there is the evident desire on the part of the press to make the people know that the situation is the most critical in England's history and that Germany is a foe that must not be despised, that the Emperor's sea and land forces have strength that have surprised the English.

The papers carry column after column of the names of those who have died in battle and devote other columns to advertisements urging the duty of enlistment. Here is an advertisement that occupied three columns in a recent issue of the London Observer.

Are you doing your bit?
If you are now serving behind a counter and can pass the doctor—you are not doing your bit.
If you are now working at a desk and can pass the doctor—you are not doing your bit.

If you are now driving a car and can pass the doctor—you are not doing your bit.
If you are not doing work for the government and can pass the doctor—you are not doing your bit. Your duty is plain—Enlist today. God Save the King.

Germany has sent the great Field Marshal von Hindenburg to the Italian frontier, thus indicating a purpose to crush Italy at the very beginning if generalship can accomplish it. Von Hindenburg is sixty-seven years old and was on the retired list when he was called back to service in the present war. His work was the protection of east Prussia from the Russians and results have shown how effective have been his methods. He was won important battles and throughout Germany and in a wider territory he has the name of a general of the Grant type, untiring in energy and brilliant in strategy.

WINCHESTER

The committee in charge of the Eastern Star program has been at work very hard and the casts of the two plays have for some time been in training. All seems ready for an excellent performance and good entertainment is promised all who attend Tuesday night. "Good Bye Girls I'm Through" from the opera Chin-Chin, by Ray Nelson and selection from "Prince of Pilsen" by the orchestra, will make up the musical prelude. The one-act farce, "How a Woman Keeps a Secret" will follow. The characters will be represented by Misses Lillian Sibert, Ruth Priest, Shirley Henderson, Beatrice Hains-further, Mrs. Robert Woodall, Anna Kelleim, Mrs. W. L. Bagshaw, Mrs. P. D. Smith and Miss Dorothy Hainsfurther. The program will continue as follows:

"Shadow Time"—Orchestra.
Solo, "A Perfect Day," with orchestra—Miss Margaret Watt.
"Little Gentlemen"—Miss Nylene Prewitt.

Song, "Schubert's Serenade"—Miss Dorothy Hainsfurther and orchestra.
One-act farce, "Mrs. Pipp's Waterloo"—Shirley Henderson, Leo Smith, Mrs. Robert Woodall and Fred Neat.

The plays are under the direction of Mrs. David Hainsfurther. F. C. Gorman has charge of the orchestra.

PROVINCES ARE IN STATE OF WAR

The situation on either the eastern or western fronts in Europe. The Austrians and Germans claim no further progress in their offensive in middle Russia and so the British military critics draw the conclusion that the big battle in which drove the Russians eastward and, at some points, across the San river, has been brought to a standstill against the bulwark of the Russian reinforcements. Stubborn fighting however, still is in progress and it may be days before either side can claim definite results. Mention in the German official report of a cavalry engagement east of Windau indicates that the Germans have landed another raiding force on the coast of Courland to take the place of the one the Russians drove back just when it was reaching the environs of Nibau.

Confused Fighting Continues. All through this northern region and as far south as the east Prussian frontier, confused fighting continues between widely separated forces when ebbs and flows as one side or the other brings reinforcements into the field. Both British and French claim to have made headway at LaBasse, but the Germans declare that all attacks have been repulsed or that the fighting is still in progress. Apparently the allies are engaged in straightening out their fronts to conform with the positions which they won in recent engagements, a task to which the Germans are offering stubborn resistance with their numerous and cleverly placed machine guns.

EXPECT TO RAISE

F-4 NEXT THURSDAY
Honolulu, May 22.—It was estimated tonight that the submarine F-4, submerged since March 26th, would be raised to the surface and put in drydock next Thursday. Friday the ill-fated craft was raised 54 feet and today 58 feet more, being within 134 feet of the surface. In the last five days rapid work on her salvaging has been done and she has been towed in shore more than 800 feet.

ENDORSE NATIONAL PROHIBITION.

Memphis, Tenn., May 22.—National prohibition was endorsed today by the prohibition committee of the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church in session here, the committee report which will be discussed later urging that congress to consider the subject.

TWELVE MORE CARS

MAKE REQUIRED AVERAGE
Indianapolis, May 22.—Twelve more cars made the required average of 80 miles an hour in the elimination trials today for the annual 500 mile motor classic to be run here May 29th. A broken connecting rod virtually demolished the engine of Barney Oldfield's car during a trial spin. He probably will drive another entry.

NEWSY NOTES OF INTEREST TO FARMERS.

Dogs and Sheep.

Sheep killing dogs are not only recognized as the worst enemy of flockmasters at the present time, but are known to be the principal cause of so marked a decrease in the numbers of sheep kept on farms. The moral effect upon all persons who have seen sheep killed, injured, or frightened by dogs is far more destructive to the industry than the actual damage sustained. No farmer contemplating the raising of sheep is likely to venture on the enterprise while the flocks of his neighbors are continually meeting reverses through the attacks of dogs, as the ultimate financial losses following such reverses are incalculable. Dog depredations to flocks are not only disheartening and discouraging to the flockmaster, but they also break up breeding plans and render restless and non-productive.—Farmers Bulletin 652.

How to Organize a Pig Club.

As soon as a sufficient number of boys and girls have expressed themselves as willing to form a club, they should meet under the direction of some adult person and elect three officers; a President, Vice-President, and Secretary, and choose a Local club leader. They should then adopt a constitution and by-laws similar to the following, which are recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture in Farmers' Bulletin 566. Having done this, the club should notify the State Leader in Junior Extension, College of Agriculture, Urbana, Ill., who will furnish all necessary blanks and instructions that may be required. Send for Circular Just published "Boys and Girls' Clubs."

Operating a Mosquito Farm.

Do you know that you are probably a breeder of mosquitoes? Many a man keeps a regular mosquito farm and does not know it. Are you one of this kind? You are, if on your premises you have open water barrels, empty tin cans, open water tanks, marshy or low ground that holds the water after rain. Of course, if you like being bitten by mosquitoes and like to run the risk of having them carry to you some taint disease, why you will not do anything to destroy the mosquito breeding places. If the people of every community would get together on the mosquito question the "domestic" mosquito could be eliminated.

Removal of Stains.

Stains should be removed before clothing is washed, because the action of soap and water may set them. In removing a stain we find some substance in which the stain is soluble. If acid is used, stretch the stained part over a bowl of boiling water and with a medicine dropper or old tooth brush apply dilute acid, occasionally dipping the stain into the boiling water to which a little ammonia has been added. Ammonia overcomes the bad effects which the acid might have on the cloth. If boiling water is used, pour through stain, pouring from some height so as to strike the stain with force. If alkali is required, dilute ammonia is preferred, the method of procedure being the same as in case of acid.

Blood. Wash with cold water until stains turn brown, then rub with naphtha soap and soak in warm water.

Chocolate.—(1) Wash with soap and tepid water. (2) Sprinkle with borax and soak in cold water.
Coffee and Indigo.—(1) Spread the stained article over a bowl and pour boiling water through it until the stain disappears. Have the water fall from a little above so that it strikes the cloth with some force. (2) Soak for a short time in Javelle water or in a weak solution of oxalic acid. Rinse thoroughly with boiling water containing a little dilute ammonia water. Repeat if necessary.

Cocoa.—Wash in cold water first, then rinse and pour boiling water through it. If resistant, try a bleaching agent.

Grass Stains. (1) Soak in alcohol. (2) Wash in naphtha soap and warm water. (3) For colored fabrics apply molasses or a paste of soap and cooking soda. Let stand over night and wash in tepid water.
Grease Spots.—(1) Wash with soap and water. Turpentine, oil, or lard are often to soften old spots before washing. (2) Grease is soluble in benzine, alcohol, chloroform, ether, and benzol. In order to keep diluted grease from spreading, spread stain over a piece of blotting paper and rub toward center with a piece of clean cheese cloth. For delicate fabrics chloroform and ether are the best solvents. (3) Apply paste made of Fuller's earth of powdered French chalk with turpentine or water. Allow to stand several days and then brush off.

Ink.—(1) Ink stain is often difficult to remove as ink varies so greatly in composition. Neither cold water nor milk will set a stain, so these are always safe to use to remove a greater part of the ink. If the ink is spilled on an article that can be put in a basin of water, do this at once then rinse until no more ink will come out. If the ink is spilled on the floor or carpet, cover the spot with some absorbent, remove, continue to do this until no more ink is absorbed. Then apply cut end of lemon, trimming off end as it becomes soiled. Rinse with cold water, and then apply 10-percent solution of oxalic acid. Let stand a few minutes and rinse in water to which a little ammonia has been added. Repeat until stain disappears. (2) Wash stained part with a paste made of lemon juice, cast, starch, soap, and then expose to the sunlight. (4) Alcohol will remove some ink stains. By Treva E. Kaufman, in Bulletin, "Home Laundering," Agricultural College of the Ohio State University, Columbus.

PUBLIC IS INVITED TO HEAR MRS. McCORMICK TOMORROW

"Woman in Politics" Will be Discussed by National Suffrage Leader at David Prince Auditorium Monday Evening.

Real scenes from the battle ground for equal suffrage will be incorporated in Mrs. Medill McCormick's talk tomorrow night, for the speaker is chairman of the congressional committee of the National Woman's Suffrage association and for several years has been active in the fight for woman's enfranchisement. It is Mrs. McCormick to whom much of the credit is due for the present partial suffrage in Illinois and this step toward equality will come in for discussion in "Woman in Politics," the address which Mrs. McCormick will give Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the David Prince auditorium.

Another phase of Mrs. McCormick's work for suffrage will be illustrated Tuesday when the film "Your Girl and Mine" will be shown at Scott's theatre, both in the afternoon and evening. "Your Girl and Mine" is the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" of the suffrage movement. Exaggeration is essential, but it is safe to say that there is not a single incident in the entire production that is not founded on an actual happening or a law that has been on the statute books. If there is exaggeration, it lends itself finely to the allegory that runs through the films. The selection of types is admirable and the picture cannot fail to prove, as it has proven, a wonderful (and necessary) inspiration for the brave host of women who are struggling to alleviate adverse conditions of womanhood.

Bearing in mind the purpose for which it was intended, there is no just criticism for "Your Girl and Mine." Even without the sanction of the national suffrage organization "Your Girl and Mine" would easily get by on its own merits.

Mrs. McCormick is writing another suffrage story around the young woman who so splendidly portrayed the character of Kate Price. These who avail themselves of this opportunity will see a picture that marks an epoch in the picture business as well as in the suffrage movement. The only failure that can possibly result from the picture would be that it should not be generally shown—all over the United States.

Care of New Hatched Chicks.
Millions of chickens are lost each year because of improper methods of feeding. (Chicks should not be fed until they are forty-eight hours old and then should receive nothing but fine, white grit. This stimulates the digestive organs and prepares them for food which is to follow. The next feeding should be a mixture of 3 parts finely cracked wheat, 3 parts finely cracked corn and 1 part steel cut oats, fed dry.
Some of this mixture or commercial chick food should be in the litter at all times so as to encourage the chicks to exercise.
Twice daily the chicks should receive rolled oats or a mixture of 3 parts bread crumbs, 3 parts corn bread and 1 part boiled egg. This mixture may be fed dry, or it may be slightly dampened with sour milk. Young chicks should always have access to clean drinking water or if possible some skim milk or buttermilk. These should be kept in a vessel so constructed that the chicks cannot get themselves wet.

Rent Houses Wanted

There has never been a time when desirable rent houses, $7.50 to $25, were scarcer at Johnston Agency than they are today. Our facilities for securing the right renter for the right house are good. Being the only agency in the city making a specialty of this business, a constant stream of applicants pours through our office. We know what is due to tenants in the way of repairs, and our tenants stay. On the other hand, we collect all rents in advance, and we do not, upon the average, lose a full month's rent upon one house a year.

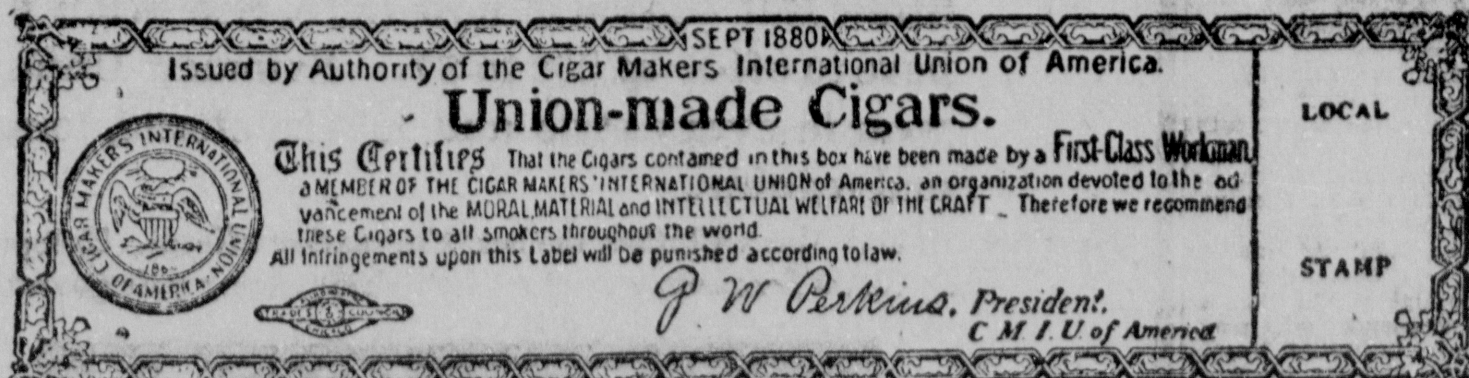

Landlords—We think you will find it profitable, and save yourselves a great amount of trouble, if you will let us attend to your rentals. We have made a science of it. And we respectfully solicit your business.

MITCHELL CAR FIRST OVER KNAFFENBERGER HILL
(Dallas City News)

Last Saturday morning W. E. Downey, a clothier from Quincy, and a chauffeur from Chicago by the name of Coe, drove into this city in a 6-cylinder Mitchell demonstrating car from the Beatty Auto Co's. garage at Quincy. They stopped at the Dorch & Deltrich garage, and while talking learned of the numerous hill climbing stunts that have been pulled off at the steep Knappenberger hill the past two weeks.

They became so interested that they went down to make a try at it. Without any tire coverings at all, Mr. Coe ran his car up some 22 feet further than any previous car had gone—in fact, was up almost to the top, where the grass became so slick his car wheels began to slip. He decided it would be as well to put on chains and go on over than to back clear down, so he put them on, and soon pushed his car over the summit. It is an awful climb, and we are now in hopes all will be satisfied with this demonstration, and that all will quit before some accident happens that may prove fatal. All should remember that the success of such feats depends almost as much on the driver as it does on the car, and the least error in judgment or lack of presence of mind might not only result in the loss of your car, but a run-away machine might kill both the occupants and a few innocent bystanders. Let's stop now, while the stopping is good, for we know the hill can be climbed, and what's the use, anyway?

For local demonstration see George Wolke & Sons, agents.

TEMPERANCE UNION CLOSES SESSIONS HELD AT MEREDOSIA

Local Citizens Take Part in Interesting Program Given at the Methodist Church.

The annual institute of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Morgan county held at Meredosia in the M. E. church was one of the most successful gatherings in the history of the organization. The good people of Meredosia had made ample arrangements for the accommodation of all those who attended the meeting from away.

The meeting was in charge of Mrs. James Galaway and the greetings from Mayor Berger found a happy response from Mrs. W. I. Brown of this city. Mrs. Agnew of this city gave a reading and "Our responsibility in training of the young people" was discussed by Mrs. George Hyde and Mrs. William Hale both of Meredosia. Mrs. W. G. Loo, man told of the relation of temperance to Missions and Mrs. L. F. Berger also read a paper on temperance. The discussion of "Motherhood as a profession" was held by Mrs. W. I. Brown of Jacksonville and Mrs. H. B. Daniel of Murrayville told of the traffic in women and what can be done to stop it. Prof. Gould of the Meredosia schools gave a very able paper on "Scientific Temperance as taught in the Public Schools" and Mrs. Agnew read a paper on "The Price of a Drink". Supt. W. H. Burns made a short talk on "Temperance in Sunday School", which was very interesting, telling of the many ways in which the Sunday school is and does help to train the young people on the results of the drink habit.

Mayor Berger spoke on "Duties of Public Officials" and "What can we do to make our town better?" His words were listened to with marked interest and profit from Jacksonville. Those attending from Jacksonville were Mrs. W. I. Brown, Mrs. Charles Hopper, Mrs. Agnew, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Branom and Miss Patterson.

JACKSONVILLE MEDICAL CLUB MET AT STATE HOSPITAL

The Jacksonville Medical club met last night at the Jacksonville state hospital as guests of Dr. A. E. Foley. Dr. Read acted as temporary chairman and Dr. Hardesty as temporary secretary. The physicians present were Doctors Foley, Ogram, Adams, Milligan, Reid, Stacy, Cole, Mslin, Black, Lowe, Hill and Norris. Dr. Ogram reported the case of a death from "Arterial Embolus" and Dr. McIn was the leader on the subject of the morphine cases treated at the hospital. The following statistics were given. First case to come to the hospital, March 3; oldest patient 82; youngest 13; average age 39; number of women, 74 cases, three by commission and the rest voluntarily; 39 cases of men, one by commission and the rest voluntarily. Most of the cases were cases of morphine and showed a low mentality. Their general history was poor. They averaged taking 40 tablets per day. There were seven cases from one family reported, a case of a mother and daughter; one of a father and daughter. There were 500 cases in the state, which was far below that which was expected when the drug law first went into effect. The largest number of patients took the drug to relieve pain. The subject proved to be an interesting one and many questions were asked and answered.

SOME WHOLESOME AND HONEST
CRITICISM PRESENTED.

Address of Retiring President of the Literary Union, Dr. Carl E. Black at Their Recent Annual Meeting—Correspondence Well Selected.

The following is the address of Dr. Carl E. Black, delivered at the retiring president of the Literary Union at its recent annual meeting held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Pitner. Dr. Black is to be congratulated on the character and quality of the correspondence selected and as a preface to his paper stated that it was good for home people to look at themselves as others see them and a little wholesome and honest criticism now and then served to set a person to thinking about their own institutions and surroundings and lead to improvement.

The address follows:
Mr. President—Members of the Literary Union—Ladies and Gentlemen:

An address by the retiring President is an established custom in the Literary Union from which I made every honorable effort to protect you. I thought I had succeeded by appointing myself as chairman of the Committee of Arrangements but at the last minute the other two members of the Committee took the matter into their own hands by deciding that it would never do to shock the regular order of things by omitting this time-honored custom. I submitted to the will of the majority but it was too late to prepare anything which would compare at all favorably with the addresses of my predecessors and I hardly knew which way to turn. About this time I received a letter from a friend who recently spent a few days in Jacksonville soliciting business for his house and went away thoroughly disgusted with his lack of success. I quote the following from his letter. He said in part:

"Jacksonville is such a beautiful town and your trees are about as fine as I see in the world. I used to envy you your squirrels but after I came to—I preached a crusade in favor of having squirrels and everybody began to cultivate them and now we are over run with the pesky little rascals. Unfortunately ours are the red squirrels and they are bad on the birds. They are so big and destructive we may have to do something to reduce the number. However, there are always enough left."  "I felt guilty in Jacksonville. I do not want any one to think I am cutting prices. It is hard enough to make a living anyway and I do not want the reputation of cutting under others. As Dr. Z— of P— says, 'there are 18,000 dead people walking around in Jacksonville. But I always liked Jacksonville folks so well I don't want them to wake up.'"

Honest Criticism Benefits.
The letter from which the above pointed criticism of our beautiful little city is taken suggested that I might produce something interesting for this occasion by going back into my letter files and making some other quotations which were equally caustic of various phases of our community and its life. I always feel that I am benefited by the honest criticisms of my real friends and in the absence of an address I will read you a few adverse sentiments. No doubt we are a little too much given to airs about ourselves and the views of a friend may help us to get a more normal view of ourselves and our surroundings. As my selections and quotations are wholly from purely private correspondence written only for my personal reading I am in honor bound to carefully conceal the identity of the authors.

Our Architecture.
The first sentiment relates to our architecture, as follows:

"You ask me what I am doing in this far away city of the Pacific Coast. Well, I have done pretty nearly everything since leaving Illinois but I trust I have finally struck 'the trail' of my life work. You may remember that I always had a fancy and perhaps a natural talent for drawing and design. Well, that talent has finally blossomed into a sign on my office door which reads, John Doe, 'Architect,' and this growing city has given me an opportunity to show what was in me—given me a measure of success—my friends say. The last time I was in Jacksonville for two days about a year ago I did not see you—I went to your office in the sky scraper of the Athens of the West, but you were out of town. I used to have an idea that the old town was something for its houses and homes, etc., but believe me, my last visit after an absence of only fourteen years, fully dispelled that delusion. The vast majority of the homes were evidently designed on the cracker box fashion or after the Queen Ann fad. The old town has a character and reputation all its own and I was delighted with the magnificent trees. There are few streets which can equal West State and College Avenue when it comes to trees. How I would like to place a few real modern up-to-date houses among those trees. Do you know as I rode around I could hardly find a house which represented individuality and character—such a sameness. It costs no more to have a house with character in it than one on the dry goods box plan. Outside of the old Chambers home, that of A. E. Ayers, the Duncan home, and a few others I saw, no houses of character according to my notion. You have a beautiful corner for a home but the house must have been conceived at the height of the Queen Ann craze. The home of the President of Illinois College is a good example of a house of character. And the Public buildings, especially the school houses, both public and private are certainly a bad lot. I thought the public school building in the northwest part of town would make a very good warehouse but it certainly does not have a solitary thing to recommend it as a school building and I can't say much more for the new school building near the High School—the plan must have been copied after some neat modern factory. The only public buildings I remember which measure up to my idea of character were the original college building—the one with the tall tower on the left front (Sturtevant); the old school building which was converted into a hospital has an excellent central tower and the main or original building at the Insane Hospital. These are excellent examples of style and character. It costs little or no more to put style, design and finished character into a building. I look at my profession this way—my buildings are my character and my reputation and after I am gone they will stand as the monuments of my success. I am afraid my buildings would not represent any lofty ideals or superior technical training in their designs. There were two or three buildings just south of that comfortable old colonial of Dr. Pitner's which are splendid exceptions—one belongs to a Mr. Strawn, if I remember correctly."

The next selection refers to the time when several of us were students of medicine at Dr. David Prince's Sanitarium. Prior to 1888 it was the custom for one who expected to attend a medical school to spend a year with a preceptor. Dr. Prince was a real teacher. He was the inspiration of the Illinois College Medical School of the 40's and was always surrounded by students. My friend writes as follows:

Old College Days.
"I wonder if we ever suspected what a busy life was in store for us when we sauntered up the hill to Old Spots, and the others who so generously tried to impart a bit of useful knowledge. How I would like to see the Old College again. Those were certainly great days and it is too bad some of us did not make better use of them. What has become of the old 'San?' (Prince's Sanitarium). It seems to me that I have heard that after Dr. Prince died his sons sold the place and moved away. That was a great place to study medicine. We must have been practically the last class of students who had the privilege of Dr. Prince's teaching and personal influence. He was certainly a born teacher and had an enthusiastic and active interest in surgery which never lagged. Is the old building still standing and if so what is it used for? Is it still inhabited by doctors and of what sort? What became of the elaborate apparatus composed of motors, fans, cotton dust pipes, etc., for purifying the air of his operating room? I suppose that was a necessary step in the progress of modern aseptic surgery and at the time the doctor built it, it no doubt was the leading thing in its line. How our ideas have changed regarding aseptic surgery. Now in the place of all that elaborate and expensive layout we simply try to be clean. Just plain, ordinary, every day clean. I don't know that the doctors have progressed any more than the women but it seems to me that I have read some place, that within a century or two a ladies' school in France had a rule that the girls were to be allowed a complete bath every three months and were permitted to wash their feet once every month. I may have gotten the foot washing a little too often."

Old Dissecting Room.
But to go back to old times at the 'San' you must tell me all about the old place, what became of it and what it looks like now, especially about the barn! Is the doctor's old dissecting room still in the middle of the hay-mow with the private stairway leading to it and the secret method of escape. Those were great days! If my memory serves me right the Illinois Anatomy Law was passed about the same time you and I finished our sojourn with Dr. Prince. Up to that time the surgeon was liable to be mulct by heavy damages for malpractice if he failed to know his anatomy, and if he took the necessary means to learn his anatomy he was sent to the penitentiary. I believe that is what is called 'being between the devil and the deep sea'. How I remember that beautiful moon-light night when we visited—cemetery and that daredevil N— rode up through the public square with the subject for dissection sitting beside him on the buggy seat. I wonder if that wasn't really the last escapade of that kind which was necessary to learn anatomy."

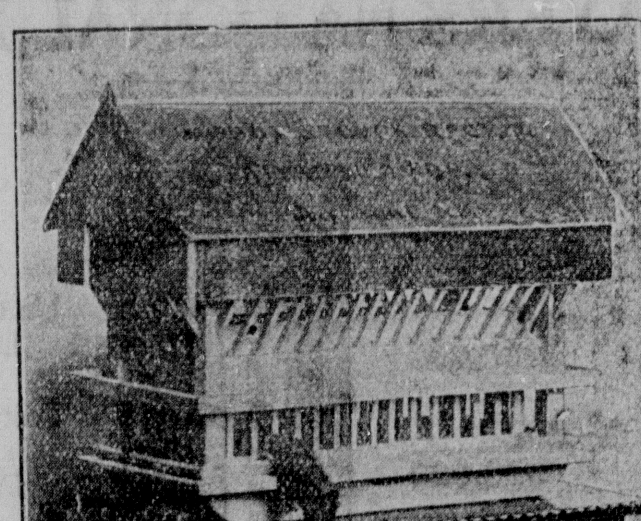

The Country Church.
The next selection relates to the surrounding country rather than the city and is on a subject which has attracted much discussion of late, namely, 'The Country Church'. I think my clerical friend is hardly fair in his comparison and yet I suspect there is something in what he says. A part of the end of the letter is omitted, otherwise the following is the complete letter.

"Come and visit us in the country. I want you to see the church which I serve, and meet the charming people in my congregation. Most preachers seem to find it a great hardship to have what they call a country charge, and after my recent visit to Morgan county I can hardly blame them. I have certainly been lucky in more ways than one. Here we have a beautiful church, with steeple, organ, choir, a special Sunday school department, banquet hall, kitchen, etc., in the midst of a grove and back from the road far enough to be free from dust and dirt and at the same time accessible to a most excellent highway. A little way to the west is the school house of three rooms, with its modern equipment—large, roomy basement, a furnace, coal room, large indoor play room, and sanitary facilities. Around the school house, as well as around the church is a splendid yard fully equipped for an up-to-date playground. In the adjoining cottage live the three young ladies who have had charge of the school for the last six years, and I think one of them has been here ten years. The parsonage is east of the church and separated from it by a beautiful grove of superb oaks—an ideal spot for basket picnics and other outdoor functions. The parsonage is one of the most attractive houses in the neighborhood—in appearance—and certainly has every modern convenience. Just think of it—twenty miles from any city and five miles from the nearest trading village, and yet, here I am with daily mail, two telephones, electric light, hot and cold water in my bath room and kitchen, and furnace heat. Do you think the country preacher suffers? But the equipment is not the best of it all. My chief pride is the community interest here, which I have rarely ever found rivaled in any country church. Community spirit I consider absolutely essential to the usefulness of every country church, as this spirit develops, so does the church itself develop. A country church cannot be situated in town any more than the country preacher can live in town, he must be part of the community in which he works. He must know the daily life of his people. They are his neighbors and his friends, in fact, his interests. Out here the church, and the school form a social center around which everything social circulates. You may be a bit shocked to hear that I am not averse to a good jolly dance at the parsonage. As a community we believe that we must keep the boys and girls at home, just as a family, we believe this. But to accomplish this, we must make it interesting and pleasant. I was very much disappointed on my recent visit. When I drove about and saw the condition of the country churches, I fully recovered from any home sickness for that part of the country. Old Ebenezer and the Point were the only ones I saw which seemed to have held their own, and as far as I could tell from superficial observation even these have made no progress. The others have not received a coat of paint in twenty years. Old Unity which I used to think so pleasant in its little shelter of trees is entirely gone and the ground returned to the fields. I was told that beautiful Antioch had not had regular services for several years and that a Sunday school was maintained with difficulty. And Zion, which had the making of the most picturesque and suitable site for a church and school with the parsonage high on the hill across the road, is certainly a sorry spectacle. Far from an inspiration, I was impressed with the one idea that there was a field for missionary work and that it would take a great revival to dethrone the erroneous theory that the country church and the country preacher could live in town and at the same time satisfy the demands of religious community life in the country any more than the successful practical farmer can live in town six days in the week."

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN WILL BEGIN TUESDAY

W. K. SHUMAKER STATE PRESIDENT, WILL SPEAK.

Will Give Stereopticon Talk on Modern Association Activities—Jacksonville is Affiliated With Great State and National Organization.

"Modern Associations and their Activities" will be the theme of an illustrated lecture Tuesday night at Y. M. C. A. Headquarters, when W. K. Shumaker, state president, will speak and the campaign for the Jacksonville Young Men's Christian Association will be formally begun. Luncheon will be served at 6:30 o'clock by ladies of the Christian church. Members of the six campaign teams, with their captains, will be present as well as many who desire to secure a better comprehension of association work in its most modern aspect. "A man with a message," Mr. Shumaker will be the faculty of making that message inspiring to hear and interesting to consider.

At the luncheon Tuesday fuller plans will be announced for the Jacksonville campaign. Sixty men will be enlisted in squads of ten. The team captains chosen are Dr. C. H. Kopperl, The Rev. Walter E. Spooner, Eb Spink, W. B. Miser, Ralph I. Dunlap and Carl H. Weber. These will work in concert and will make comparisons of progress and discuss ways and means at subsequent luncheons will be held at the headquarters on the north side of the square.

A Movement of Magnitude.

If the Y. M. C. A. buildings, erected in America last year were placed side by side along one of Jacksonville's streets, allowing the modest width of sixty feet per building, they would cover nine solid city blocks. These vary in cost from a few thousand dollars, the cost of some of the Indian, Construction camp or Industrial buildings to the magnificent $1,500,000 building in which the Boston Association is housed. If the membership should parade past a given point in the city, five abreast, marching five feet apart, they would make a line 112 miles long, and marching past a given point at the rate of 100 per minute, they would be marching for more than four solid days, twenty-four hours per day. Or, starting on Monday morning at eight, the last of the line would pass at twelve noon Friday. In Illinois alone, the membership would make a procession more than six and a half miles long.

The Jacksonville Association is affiliated with this large group. It has not, however, been keeping pace with the other Associations of the state or country. It has been handicapped largely because of its own work, non-revenue producing building. It stands in a class with but one or two other cities of the state, housing its association in an old type of building.

Other Illinois Y. M. C. A.'s. Comparison with some of the other cities of the state are interesting. Canton, with 10,000 population has a membership of 387 and a modern $46,000 building. Pontiac has a membership of 566 and a population of 6,090 and a $42,000 building. Naperville with 3,449 population has more than one tenth of its people, 402, enrolled in the membership of the association and has a building valued at $36,000. Clinton, Monmouth, Dixon, Sterling, Waukegan, Streator, Oak Park, Evanston, Kewanee, Alton, Freeport, Galesburg, Kankakee might be mentioned, to say nothing of a score of larger cities.

"Where in this city can a young man spend a pleasant evening with his fellows, where the atmosphere is wholesome and the surroundings uplifting," was the rejoinder of an employer, when recommended by his employee, in one of the large southern cities for spending his evening in the place he did and appearing at the office unfit for work the next morning. His question set his employer to thinking, with the result that the employer made the initial gift toward the fund which made possible the beautiful association building now found in that city.

Association Growth.

At the rate of more than one per week, these "social centers are springing up in cities all over the land and it is becoming increasingly difficult for a young man to ask the above question. The modern Young Men's Christian Association building, with its spacious, well-equipped lobby, its attractive games, its reading rooms and social functions, dormitories, etc., is answering the question. The daily attendance at the Illinois buildings last year exceeded 13,000 men and boys and when the buildings now under construction are completed, there will be more than two thousand dormitory rooms to care for the thousands of young men, anxious to make the association building their home.

Chicago has placed in the hands of the Young Men's Christian Association a sum of over a million dollars, for the purpose of erecting a young men's hotel building, which will care for more than a thousand young men. These rooms are rent at twenty-five and thirty-five cents per night and are to be rented to young men just arriving in the city, who have not had an opportunity to become attached. When well located in a position and having established an acquaintance in the city, they are to make room for other young men just coming in. The erection of this building is to begin soon.

LEGISLATURE IS EXPECTED TO ADJOURN EARLY IN JUNE

Total Bills Introduced Number 1465
—Twenty-Four Have Passed Both Houses.

Springfield, Ill., May 22.—At the end of the twentieth calendar week of the Forty-ninth general assembly a total of 1,465 bills have been introduced in the senate and house, 950 of the number have originated in the lower branch and 515 in the senate. Of this total just twenty-four have passed both branches and been laid before Gov. Dunne for his approval or veto.

The understanding among the lawmakers when they departed for their homes for the week end recess was that the work of the session will come to a close Friday night, June 11. While no official action has been taken toward fixing this date for winding up the business of the assembly, the members are getting restless and appear ready to suspend operations at the earliest possible date. It is not believed that the appropriation bills and other important measures can be disposed of in time to quit work by June 4, which was the date aimed at several weeks ago, but the additional week should see everything necessary disposed of. As usual, a mass of less important matters will be wiped out without final consideration.

Chairman Smock of the house appropriations committee will have the big omnibus appropriation bill ready to introduce in the house early next week. It has always required two weeks to dispose of this measure. It is expected that progress upon Gov. Dunne's waterway bill will keep pace with omnibus bill and that both will be finally disposed of in the senate by the end of the first week in June. Along with them will go several other of the more important bills that are pending.

Appropriation Bills.

Aside from the two foot and mouth appropriation bills, little significance attaches to the twenty-four bills already handed to Gov. Dunne by the assemblymen. Included in the number are the usual appropriations to meet the expenses for various state departments and some bills of purely local application. Following are the appropriation measures which already have passed both houses and have been approved by the governor:

S. B. 4 (Canaday) appropriating $75,000 to pay employees of the general assembly.

S. B. 4 (Canaday) appropriating $15,000 for the incidental expense of the secretary of state's department.

S. B. 3 (Canaday) appropriating $4500 for the incidental expenses of the senate and $6,000 for the incidental expenses of the house.

H. B. 102 (Shepard) making a deficiency appropriation of $29,965 for the industrial board.

H. B. 205 (Flagg) re-appropriating $5,000 for the state horticultural society, this amount having been appropriated two years ago, but on account of a mistake in the wording of the bill, could not be used.

H. B. 340 (Igoe) making a deficiency appropriation of $20,000 to meet the expenses of returning fugitives from justice.

H. B. 209 (Bruce) making a deficiency appropriation of $29,966 the state auditor's department.

H. B. 256 (Smejkal) making a deficiency appropriation of $12,823.12 for the secretary of state's department.

H. B. 76 (Smejkal) appropriating $1700 to reimburse Cornelius Donovan for money expended in equipping the state free employment office at Rock Island-Moline.

H. B. 235 (LePage) appropriating $3,611.10 for the widow of the late Alonzo K. Vickers, being the balance of salary for his term as justice of the Illinois supreme court.

H. B. 415 (House appropriations committee) appropriating $983,497.48 to reimburse livestock owners to the extent of one half their losses suffered through the slaughter of animals on account of the foot and mouth contagion. The federal government will pay the other half.

H. B. 574 (Smejkal) making a deficiency appropriation of $15,000 for the legislative reference bureau.

Two appropriation bills which have passed both houses but have not yet been acted upon by Governor Dunne are:

H. B. 885 (Appropriations committee) appropriating $103,620.16 to cover one half the expense of burying slaughtered animals, disinfecting premises, buying disinfectants, paying assistant veterinarians, etc. in the handling of the foot and mouth epidemic.

H. B. 165 (Garesche) appropriating $1000 for the Illinois Firemen's association.

Other measures which have passed both houses and been approved by Gov. Dunne are:

H. B. 106 (Smejkal) providing that the net value of benefit certificates of fraternal beneficiary societies shall be exempt from taxation.

H. B. 284 (Scanlan) legalizing annexations to cities where assessments for city purposes have been made and paid.

H. B. 376 (Holaday) legalizing elections held for the organization of high school districts since July 1, 1911 where the votes of women have been the deciding factor.

H. B. 43 (Gregory) changing a term of the circuit court of Moultrie county.

H. B. 176 (Igoe) creating six additional circuit judgeships in Cook county.

H. B. 4 (Atwood) authorizing school officers to issue warrants in anticipation of taxes.

H. B. 17 (Buxton) authorizing county boards to make appropriations not exceeding $250 a year to aid county poultry exhibitions.

S. B. 180 (Denvir) authorizing

NEW ASSOCIATION BUILDING AT DANVILLE

Danville, with a population of 28,000, opened a Y. M. C. A. in March which is considered by many to represent the last word in construction and design for association buildings of its class. The building cost $140,000, and was debt free at the time of dedication.

West Park commissioners of Chicago to issue bonds not to exceed one million dollars for park improvement purposes.

The following two bills have been passed and are in the hands of Gov. Dunne, but have not yet been acted upon:

H. B. 204 (Weber) giving boards of education authority to levy, by resolution, a tax not exceeding two percent a year, to be ratified at a special election, in addition to the present legalized tax of 1 1/2 percent and a tax for building purposes not exceeding three percent.

S. B. 135 (Lande) creating a teachers' pension fund and providing that the state shall contribute two tenths of a mill on the tax levy to be added to the fund.

A LARGE FAMILY.

Up to date Cass county can claim the palm for large families. A. C. Rice of this city once knew in Cass county a man named Gregory who had in one family twenty-one children and when Mr. Rice knew them twenty were at home. He thinks too that they were all the children of one mother. They migrated from Cass county to Scott county and made the brick with which Rev. Philip Minard built the brick house now occupied by William Gordon on the road to Merritt.

INDOORS

"Oh, I hate to work," said the weary clerk, "in this stale and stuffy store, when the birds sing, 'Dumpty-ting-a-ling,' in that tree outside the door; when the skies are fair, and the balmy air is scented with lilac bloom, it is fierce, I say that a man must stay all day in a musty room!" Then he takes a day from his work, in May, and rambles the glades and dells; oh, he haunts the streams that he saw in dreams—for a time he is wearing bells. When his jaunt is over he returns once more to the place where he earns his mon, where he lately squealed—and his nose is peeled, for it couldn't stand the sun; and his legs are sore where the chiggers tore their way through the juicy meat, and he raves and rants of the blooming ants that thought he was good to eat; and he weeps and squirms as he tells of worms that dined on his shapely calves, and he prates of bugs as he goes for drugs, for liniments, balms and salves. And he says, says he, "It's the store for me, here comfort for aye abides, no more I'll lie where the hornets fly, dad blister their blink blank hides!"

The people who built the Pyramids did a job that has never been beaten.

From foundations to cap-stones they were constructed to endure.

There was no overweight anywhere and no part was too weak or too light to match the other parts. Hence the lasting qualities of the Pyramids. Diamond Tires are built, as the Pyramids were built, to last.

Every part is made to wear just as long as the other parts endure.

Consequently Diamond Squeegies Tread Tires made a record in 1914 that has never been matched. Send for our book of letters from dealers who sold Diamond Tires in 1914.

It tells how more than 99 out of every 100 of the more than half a million Diamond Tires sold last year gave maximum service at minimum mileage cost. It is yours for the asking.

FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.
(By Associated Press)

London, May 15.—This year's Royal Academy Exhibition of Paintings and Sculptures shows in marked fashion the presence of a European war. A considerable proportion of the exhibits deal with war subjects, although the critics find little that they regard as of lasting merit.

Almost the only work universally praised in the press reviews of the opening day is by a Belgian sculptor, M. Ezide Rombex. It is a statue of more than life size, entitled "Premier Morning." The critic of the Morning Telegraph says without more enthusiasm than the others, "outside the charmed circle where Rodin reigns supreme, no sculpture more remarkable in originality and poetry of conception has been seen in late years in a public exhibition."

This Belgian work leads some of the critics to speculate as to the possibility of the war bringing about a great Renaissance of art, literature, and music in the devastated parts of Belgium and Northern France. The critic of the Post declares that the only real piece of artistic inspiration thus far produced by the war is the poem "Chantons, Belges, Chantons," written by Emile Cammaerts, a Belgian. British poets, musicians, and painters, he says, have felt as yet very little of the human or spiritual impulses of the war. "Our artists," he explains, "in common with our literary men and musicians, apparently regard the war from a purely professional viewpoint. They seem to lack the stimulating experience evident in M. Cammaerts' poem. If a new and nobler era of artistic thought and expression is to dawn in the course of the war, it will be in France or Flanders, or in the other countries where the war's seriousness has been impressed more poignantly on the minds and hearts of men and women. The wanton destruction of old cities and glorious architectural monuments raised in ages of higher faith and accomplishment should quicken the artistic temperament of our Allies and bring about a Renaissance."

One of the popular war pictures in the new Academy will be Herbert Oliver's "Where Belgium Graved Britain." It is a large canvas portraying a frontier post on the road from Dunkirk to Furnes on December 4 of last year. King George of England, in neat khaki and polished boots, is alighting from his automobile to greet the King of the Belgians, while the staff stand rigidly at salute and the chauffeur casts an interested eye upon the Belgian King.

Another side of war, somewhat removed from the battlefield, is seen in John Lavery's "Wounded: London Hospital." It portrays a long line of hospital wards, with a strapping Gordon Highlander in the foreground, his wounded arm being dressed by a Red Cross nurse. The serious business of war is keenly made evident by the surgical implements on the glass table, and by the helpless figure of a bandaged soldier in the nearest cot, while a less tragic touch is felt in the convalescent warrior smoking happily in a corner and in the warm spring sunlight which pours through an open door. The picture seems to be still unfinished, owing perhaps to the fact that the artist caught "Diplomats Plue," a form of influenza common among the troops who have been too long in the trenches. He had to leave the hospital where he was painting this work and go to the seaside to recover.

The same artist contributes another war picture entitled "Armored Car Squadron." W. L. Wyllie also has two war pictures, "Fighting Line from Ypres to the Sea" and "Bringing in the Wounded Lion." The latter is so startlingly realistic that one critic questions the propriety of exhibiting it. "If this picture is founded on personal observation," says the critic, "or on duly ascertained fact, it furnishes evidence as to the state of the giant cruiser Lion after the North Sea battle which no writer would have been allowed to reveal."

Another brilliant war picture is Napier Hemy's "Black Flag." This shows the pirates of a hundred years ago at work. A queer deckless vessel, armed with cannon of brass and crowded with pirates sailing openly under the black flag, attacks with apparent success, a big schooner which is going at full sail in vain effort to escape.

Norman Wilkinson's "Battle Cruisers" portrays the British Invincible and inflexible engaging the enemy in the Falkland Islands action. A glimpse of the fighting lines in France is given in John Charlton's "French Artillery Crossing the Flooded Aisne" and his "Retreat from the Marne."

"Comrades" by John Charlton, represents a British soldier exposing himself to the bullets of the enemy out of regard for his dead comrade, a French soldier. "The Strongest" by Charles E. Stewart, is a picture of the Belgians of today. A small Belgian boy, being dragged down the street by his mother, turns to stick his tongue out maliciously at the German soldier, who stands with a puzzled look, uncertain whether to resent or ignore the insult.

Glasgow, May 15.—That the shipyards on the Clyde are turning out several fighting ships of entirely new types which are expected to prove decisive factors both in the North Sea and in the Dardanelles, was revealed in an address made to a meeting of business men here by Captain J. J. Barjot of the Admiralty office. In urging the necessity of recruiting several thousand skilled workmen for the ship building work, he said:

"Our main concern up here and on the Clyde is the Fleet. These yards are building ships of new types, and great issues depend on their arriving at their stations. To get these ships ready there are wanted many more men, especially iron workers. In order to beat the enemy we shall have to pool the whole of our resources of skilled labor and put them on government work. This will mean a very considerable displacement of labor, but I feel confident by the readiness with which the representatives of the employers and men have come together, that the efforts will be successful.

"Many firms have already most willingly met my request to divert men from their works to other firms engaged on government work, and the representatives of the boiler makers and other trades have also given me assistance. But the transference must be done on a larger and larger scale. Transfer of men naturally involved financial loss through inability of firms to carry on contracts, but the government will arrange suitable compensation in these cases."

Capetown, South Africa, May 15.—In warning a camp of soldiers in training to be always on the lookout for mines and similar devices, General Botha told the following story of the recent fighting:

"During the enemy's retreat, the burghers were crowded around a water hole. Below them lay buried tons of dynamite, while in a cave nearby was a single man left behind by the foe to discharge the mine. While they were quenching their thirst he made his preparations to blow them up.

"First he pulled one wire, and it broke, a second wire got caught and could not be fired. He had a third wire also, on the opposite side of the cave, but just before he could put it into action, somebody noticed the wires and traced them to the cave, cutting them before any harm could be done and taking the mine-setter prisoner."

Berlin, April 25.—The city of Asch has just witnessed the rare spectacle of a marriage without a bridegroom. His place was taken by his brother, who possessed a formal power of attorney from the bridegroom, who is in the field. It had not before been generally known in Germany that paragraph 72 of the code of civil laws provides for marriage by proxy in cases where the bridegroom is hindered "by higher power" from being present.

A GOOD WORD FOR MERDOSIA

Record of Recent Years Shows What Improvements Can Be Made Without License Money.

Having spent the day last Thursday in Merdosia, with others who attended the institute held by the Morgan County Woman's Christian Temperance Union, I was greatly impressed with the neat, clean and beautiful appearance of the town. New concrete walks, clean streets, fine shade trees and many new modern residences. Electric light and water system, all together make a town any one might be proud to call home. And then in addition to these things they have a real live up to date mayor and aldermen. In the address of welcome given to the ladies of the institute May or Berger, among many other good things said, the following statements were made:

County Chairman, Delegates and Friends: "It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to our little city. You are now in local option territory. We have one of the driest dry towns in this part of Illinois. Not because I happen to be the executive officer, because we have men and women here at Merdosia, that stand four square, against the open saloon and for righteousness. They are not local option only on Sunday and on prayer meeting nights. But are local option on election day, and the ballot is that which is counted."

"We have had our town dry the past four years, and we will have it dry the coming two years. Perhaps it will interest you to know we have an entire dry board from city hall keeper up, the six aldermen, the city clerk, city treasurer, health warden, all are dry, and stand opposed to the open saloon 265 days in the year. They are of the driest type. They are all real estate holders, men of families and have the best interests of Merdosia at heart. They are as dry in a wet crowd as they are dry in a dry crowd. We have locked up all the questionable places of the town, put the city seal on them and have thrown the keys in the river. All other places are open for your inspection. I hope your visit will be a pleasant and profitable one. We allow no crunks to patrol our sidewalks and we have only had one in our city in three years. And we expect to hold the reins of the city just as tight the coming two years as we did the past year."

With the assistance of the city aldermen we had the pleasure of building 15,000 square feet of concrete sidewalk the past year, paid all running expenses of the town, and have money in the bank to start the new year. I make mention of this, because the "wet" element of every town contend that a city cannot pay running expenses, and make any improvements without the open saloon. One who was there.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES.

President Rammelkamp will complete this commencement his tenth year as President of Illinois College.

Interest is already being manifested in the competition for the Alumni Reunion Trophy. This is the silver loving cup donated by the Chicago Alumni society, to be awarded each year to the class that has the largest number of members present for the commencement reunion. The cup was won last year by the class of 1909.

A new girls' literary society has been organized in the College. It has taken the name of a former girls' society—Philomathian. The officers of the society are: President, Miss Edith Emmerson; vice-president, Miss Alice Gunn; secretary, Miss Dorothy Foster.

Dean F. S. Hayden, who has been confined to the house by illness during the past week, expects to resume his duties on the campus Monday.

Mrs. M. D. Crawley and daughters Mary and Margaret of Evanston, Illinois, have been the guests of Miss Helen Crawley at Academy Hall during the past few days.

The reunion of the Academy alumnae will be held on Saturday, June fifth at three o'clock. An address will be given by Mrs. Howard T. Wilson of Virden. Professor Isabel S. Smith will also be one of the speakers at this meeting.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

Interest in the college now centers in the closing events of the college year. The Home Economics Exhibit will be the first of the closing events. The exhibit will be held on two days, Wednesday, from 2:30 to 5:30 and from 7:30 to 9 in the evening. On Thursday the exhibit will begin in the morning at 10 lasting until 12, while the afternoon and evening hours will be the same as Wednesday. At this exhibition both plain and fancy cookery may be seen, as well as sewing, embroidery, dressmaking, millinery etc. The work of the department has been of unusually high grade this year and every one is cordially invited to attend this exhibit.

On next Friday evening, May 28th will occur the annual commencement exercises of the Academy department, which will be held in Music hall at 8 o'clock.

On Saturday night at 8:15 on the college campus the Dramatic club will present "Sherwood" by Alfred Noyes. If the weather does not permit an out of doors performance it will be presented in Music Hall, so that in any case the play will occur as planned. There is a cast of nearly 40 people and the entire performance will be greatly worth while. The play of "Sherwood" is the story of Robin Hood and is said to be one of the most beautiful metrical dramas of the present drama day. The play is in charge of Misses Glecker and Shaw of the expression Department; the fairies and music are under the direction of Misses Robinson and DeMuth and Mrs. Day.

On Sunday the Baccalaureate service will be held at Grace church. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. T. N. Ewing, pastor of the First M. E. church of Springfield. Sunday night the annual sermon to the Young Women's Christian Association will be given by the same speaker from Centenary church.

Miss Dorothy Stevens, who graduates from the art department this year, has been appointed to a splendid position in the public schools of Rock Island. She will be assistant supervisor of art. Misses Beulah Erikson and Lucy Royse have both been notified that they have been winners of cash prizes in the National Oats Girl contest. This contest was advertised in the Ladies Home Journal in the early part of the winter and the prizes are just now being awarded.

The Greek play, "The Antioch of Sophocles" will be given Monday afternoon. If the weather is favorable it will be given on the college campus; if not favorable it will be given in the Opera House.

Miss Corrine Hughes appeared in her original adaption of "Peg O' My Heart" Wednesday afternoon in Music hall. In spite of the inclement weather about 400 people were present to enjoy her reading. She was perfectly at home and was very good in all the different characters she interpreted.

The students in the home economics department, who will receive certificates and diplomas next month, have been serving luncheons to their friends for the past several weeks.

NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS TODAY

May 23.

Count Helmuth Von Moltke, the deposed Chief of the German Staff of the German army, and nephew of the great leader Von Moltke of the Franco-Prussian war, is 67 years old today. Like many other German leaders, he incurred the displeasure of the Kaiser when the plans for the conquest of France went wrong last fall. It was said he had trouble with the Crown Prince in regard to the latter's plan of operations, and reports have reached America that he was conned in one of the royal palaces under the displeasure of the Kaiser.

In the early months of the war, Von Moltke had the full confidence and favor of the Kaiser. He was urged to head the war staff, and he undertook the campaign in the west. There were many who believed it was because the Kaiser's Von Moltke was a nephew of the great Von Moltke that this officer was chosen to lead the campaign that was intended to be the crowning glory of Germany.

Count Von Moltke was born at Gersdorf, in Mecklenburg-Schwerin, on May 23, 1848. He came of Danish origin, and in 1878 married a Danish countess. Two of their sons were officers in the German army and one of them has been reported killed in battle.

Von Moltke is a finished musician. The Kaiser himself led the band in playing an old march which Von Moltke had discovered and rewritten.

One of the Hardest Problems with Which Commission has had to Deal is the Fact That Belligerents Refused to Permit Purchase of Food Supplies Within Their Boundaries.

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

London, May 10.—The warehouses of the American Commission for the Relief of Belgium at Rotterdam and various provincial centers are at last sufficiently well stocked so that the commission can stand the shock of interruptions in the receipt of supplies without fearing that the Belgians will starve over night.

Purchase All Food Overseas.

One of the hardest problems with which the Commission had to deal, was the fact that belligerent nations refused to permit the purchase within their boundaries of food stuffs for the Belgian sufferers. It was consequently necessary to obtain all the food overseas. It was found that if purchases were made in the primary centers and the most economical transport undertaken, it was necessary to have in transit at all times three months' food supply. The commission, therefore, managed to borrow $10,000,000 secured upon the goods in transit and the members of the commission pledged their personal credit for the further commences to bring up the stock of goods in transit as high sometimes as $20,000,000. In the early days the commission would have to send canal boats first to one part of Belgium and then to another where the supplies were within less than twenty-four hours of exhaustion.

Managers Simplify Distribution.

At first the commission endeavored to distribute the actual gift food consigned to them to the actually destitute persons. Within a week they found an enormous amount of difficulty and confusion arising out of this arrangement because it would be necessary to divide a cargo of gift food for instance over 3000 communities in Belgium, and at the same time to ship parallel with it a large quantity of food stuffs, consigning them for the purposes of sale for those who could pay. This meant a duplication of the entire transport organization and in fact was quite impossible because no gift cargo was sufficient in size to distribute over 3,000 communities; and the next thing the commission found was that it was borrowing from the gift cargoes and was loaning food from the Sales Department to the Benevolent Department. The direct business mind of the Managers untied this knot by a very simple device, by which they sold all of the gift food from the Benevolent Department to the Provisioning Department. The Benevolent Department instead of having food-stuffs, thus had cash in hand. This they proceeded to distribute by weekly subscriptions to the communities, and the Communal Authorities with this money purchased their required imports from the sales department. The result was an enormous simplification in the work and an actual gain in efficiency, as the communities were then able to buy precisely what they required for each individual and local institution.

Course of Cargo of Foodstuffs.

It is of some interest to follow the actual course of a cargo of foodstuffs through the Commission. Take the case of Argentine wheat. One of the largest firms of grain buyers in the Argentine undertook to make purchases on behalf of the Commission without profit to themselves. This grain would be purchased in one of the central Argentine provinces, transported to Buenos Aires, land a freight paid on it, less than the usual rates by virtue of arrangements of the Commission with the Railway Companies at Buenos Aires. A cargo would be taken up by one of the regular steamers of the Commission. Inasmuch as the Commission had negotiated an arrangement with all of the belligerent governments that ships flying the Commission's flag would be immune from attack at sea, they were able to charter ships and obtain rates at less than normal. This cargo, in due time arrived at Rotterdam and was there discharged into lighters which are under time charter to the commission. These lighters are towed down the canals from Rotterdam into Belgium and discharged into one of the five milling centers in Belgium. The flour mills in these five cities are operated on behalf of the commission, whereby the commission agrees to pay for the labor and actual cost of operation. The wheat is milled into 80 per cent flour and 20 per cent bran and the bran is sold to the municipal dairies to feed the cattle and thereby maintain the cycle of milk supply for the baby can. teens.

The flour is again loaded into lighters and is distributed into provincial warehouses of the Commission. From these warehouses it is again distributed into "arrondissement" warehouses. The communal authorities come to the arrondissement warehouse for their supplies. The communities pay in cash to the arrondissement managers the stipulated price of flour, and having removed it to the communal warehouses there begins one of the most interesting phenomena in the detailed measures taken to secure absolute economy and justice in the method of distribution.

In the case of flour, in the first instance, the joint organizations required the communities to secure a complete list of all of the bakers. These lists were compared with the communal record and a definite number of persons were assigned to each baker for him to supply with bread. The baker is put in bond to supply 325 grammes of good bread made from no other material than that of the Commission (in order to prevent adulteration) daily to each adult customer, and at a price fixed by the commission. For this purpose he received daily from the communal warehouse 250 grammes of flour per adult. The communities sell the flour to the baker at the same price which they pay for it. The baker is compelled to sell the bread to his customers for the same price that he pays for the flour, but, inasmuch, as bread made from 250 grammes of flour increases to 325 grammes of bread, by virtue of the water incorporated in baking, the baker thus obtains a small margin of profit with which to pay his workmen. Any contravention by the baker of the minute rule set down means the punishment of having his list of customers assigned to some competitor.

Handles Internal Produce.

The same system applies to the handling of other materials. On the benevolent side, those who cannot afford to buy their bread from the baker or their groceries from the grocer, apply to the communal authorities, and on investigation, are given tickets on the communal store. These tickets equal a certain ration per head in each family per diem. The communal store is stocked with foodstuffs partly imported and as stated above, partly purchased locally by the Communities from the cash partially supplied to them by the Commission. In addition to the handling of the imported food supplies the commission now handles a considerable amount of internal food produce, as it has been necessary to buy potatoes in some portions of Belgium and send them to other parts aside from the very large quantity of potatoes now being imported. The commission recently purchased 5,000 tons of coffee from the stores commandeered at Antwerp and has re-sold this throughout the country.

PREACHERS' CAMPAIGN

TO MAKE CHICAGO DRY.

Chicago, May 22.—Tomorrow is "Dry Chicago Sunday" in the churches of Chicago, and the preachers of the various denominations will deliver sermons on the subject, as the opening gun of the campaign to wipe out booze off the map in Chicago. "You may pray against the saloon and preach against its iniquity and try to sing it out, but it will take ballots and thousands of them to wage an effective warfare against the liquor traffic" is the slogan of the day.

COAL MEN HANG ON TO $6,000,000 IN TAXES.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 22.—Arguments are set for Monday in the Supreme Court on the appeals of the mining companies from Judge Kunzel's decision that the State tax on anthracite is valid. More than $6,000,000 in back taxes are due the state if the law of 1913 is upheld by the higher court. There is prospect of postponement of the arguments for the attorneys for the coal companies have claimed they did not have sufficient time to prepare the voluminous records on which they base their case.

So much importance attaches to the court's decision, and so many authorities are cited in defense of the stand taken by the corporation and by the state, that the final arguments will be watched with great interest.

If the arguments are not heard next week, it is likely that the appeal will go over until October.

The cases which were appealed are the test cases of the Alden Coal Company, the St. Clair Coal Company and the Plymouth Coal Company. Hinging on the legality of the state tax are the millions withheld from the state by coal barons.

THREE MURDER TRIALS IN NEW JERSEY.

Newark, N. J., May 22.—Hiram E. Craig, recently convicted of second degree murder for the death of Miss Hattie Reeve, will be placed on trial for the murder of Mrs. May Clark on Monday. The crime occurred February 20, when the Clark and Reeve women were found dead in the former's home. Craig has not been sentenced on his former conviction.

Bridgeton, N. J., May 22.—Two murder trials have been set for next week. George F. Hawn will be tried for the murder of six year old Beatrice Bailey. In a fit of rage he shot through a window at his sweetheart, his bullet striking the little girl. James Moore of Bridgeton will also be tried for cutting the throat of Florence Johnson with a razor. Both defendants have entered pleas of not guilty.

A DELICATE CHILD.

Made Strong by Vinol.

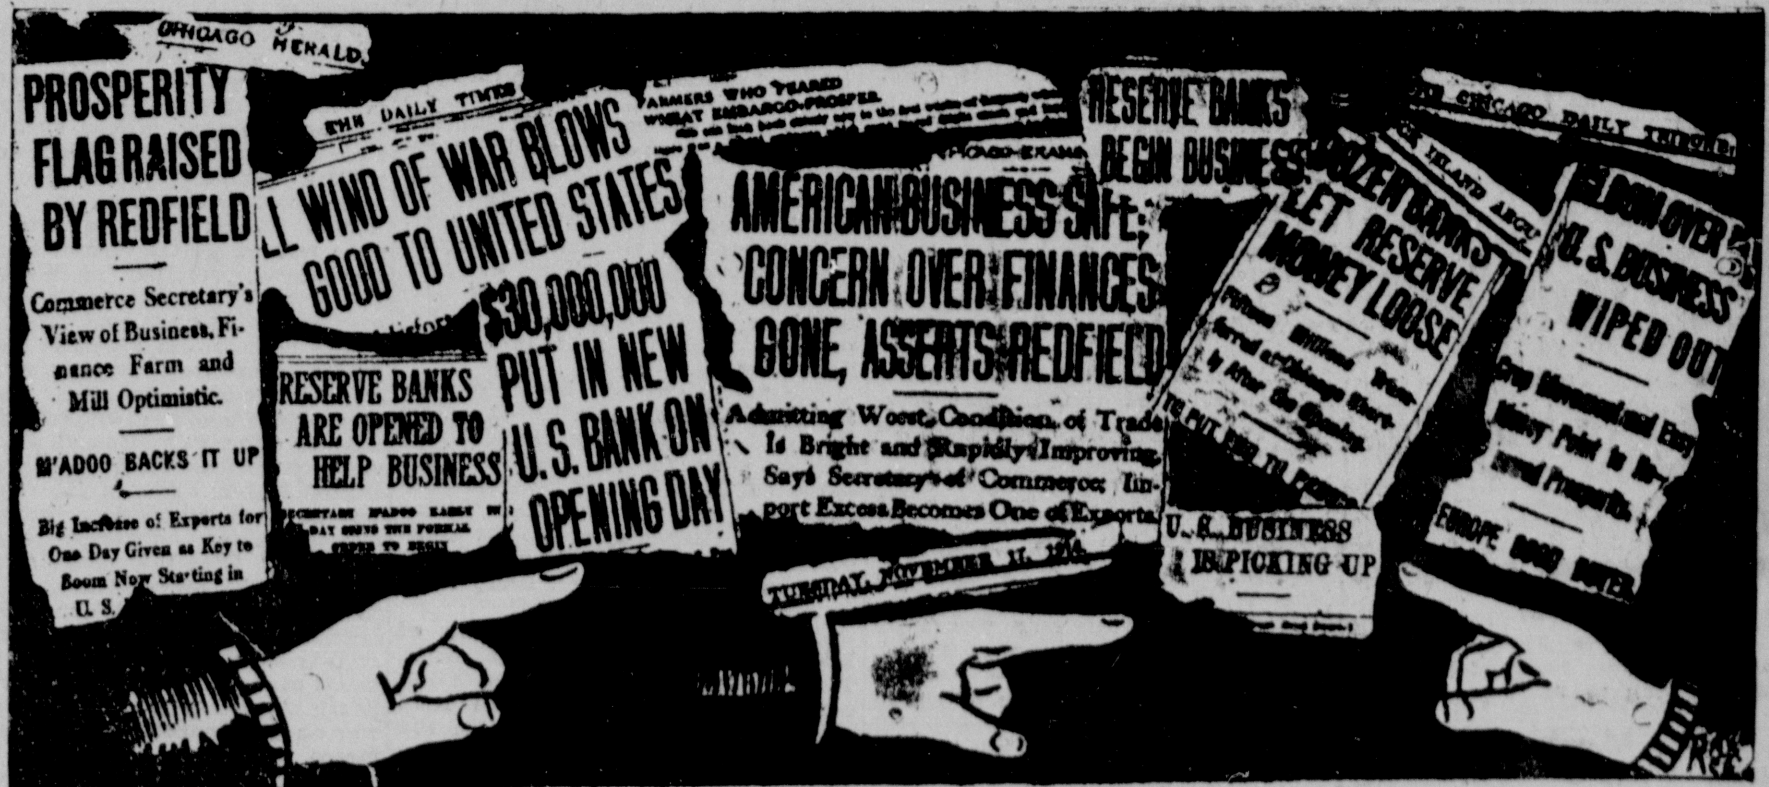

Fayetteville, N. C.—"My little daughter was in poor health, delicate and so weak it made us very uneasy. I heard about Vinol and decided to try it and the results were marvelous, her appetite improved, she gained in weight, and is now one of the healthiest children in town. Mothers of delicate children should try Vinol."

Mrs. Gordon Jessup. Vinol is a delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, a constitutional remedy which creates an appetite, aids digestion and makes pure healthy blood. All children love to take it. Lee P. Alcott, druggist, Jacksonville, Ill., and leading drug stores everywhere.—Advertisement.

MISS MARY LINCOLN DIVINE PASSES AWAY AT PHILADELPHIA

Her Parents Were Married in Jacksonville and Have Relatives Residing Here.

A message came Saturday telling of the passing of Miss Mary Lincoln
Divine, from Philadelphia, Pa.
Miss Divine, who has several times visited here, was the daughter of William and Mary Amanda Divine, who were married in the old Hockenhill house on North Main street, this city, May 9, 1852. Mrs.
Divine was a Miss McMackin, being a sister of the elder Mrs. Robert and Mrs. John Hockenhill, and Mrs.
Joshua Moore of this city. The Mc-mackin family came here from Philadelphia in 1836. Mr. Divine, with his father were among the early and large manufacturers of Philadelphia, to which city some of the family came about the beginning of the last century. To that city Mr. and Mrs.
Divine went immediately upon their marriage, and it was their family home until about 1885, when they went to Atlantic City, N. J.
Miss Mary L. Divine was born in the city of Philadelphia. Her mother in company with other members of the family, had a wonderful faculty for teaching, and for managing people. Miss Divine inherited much of this quality, along with decided attractiveness of form and of feature. Quite naturally she became a teacher, her first employment being at the Nebraska School for the Deaf, in Omaha. She went from there,
some years ago, to Portland, Maine,
where her cousin, Miss Elizabeth R.
Taylor is principal of the Maine
School for the Deaf. There Miss Divine became assistant principal, in which position her services were highly valued, owing to her breadth of view and fine adaptability. Quite lately Miss Divine has been in poor health and the end came on Saturday.

As stated before, Miss Divine had visited here from childhood, and was well known by our older people. She passed away, about 1893, with her aunt, Mrs. John Hockenhill, Sr.
Miss Divine was a cousin of Mr.
Robert M. Hockenhill and of Mr.
Ginsley Moore, and also of Mrs. R. J.
Young of West State street and of the late Mrs. Louisa T. Russell of Caldwell street.

Miss Divine's sisters, Misses Margaret G. and Jane S. Divine, and brother George G. Divine, reside in Atlantic City. Her brother, Mr. William S. Divine, a lawyer in Philadelphia, passed away in 1908. He was the husband of Miss Annie Elliott, formerly of this city, and sister of Mr. Frank Elliott.

Two more states adopt compulsory laws.

With South Carolina and Texas enrolled on the list of States that have compulsory school attendance laws as a result of 1915 legislation, the States without compulsory laws
are now reduced to four—Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Mississippi.

While the South Carolina and Texas laws are not as comprehensive and strict as those of some of the other states that have had compulsory laws for many years, they are a distinct recognition of the compulsory principle and represent a big step forward in the two States.

The Texas law requires all children between the ages of 8 and 14 to attend school—80 days the first year, 80 days the second year, and 100
days thereafter in every school year.
It provides for attendance officers,
fixes penalties for violations, and provides for the establishment of parent or truant schools where necessary. The law goes into effect
November 1, 1916.

The South Carolina law is optional, but the State authorities are hopeful that a large proportion of the districts will vote to have the law apply to them. State Superintendent Swearingin is urging that "every local tax district circulate its compulsory attendance petition at once, hold its election, and put every child
in school during 1915-16."

Officers of the U. S. Bureau of Education believe that the action of Texas and South Carolina in enacting compulsory school attendance laws will have an effect not only on the 4 states still without such laws but also on States where the school attendance laws operate only in part.
Vigorous campaigns are under way in several states to make compulsory education effective throughout all the territory of the States and for longer periods of attendance.

In Alabama, where school problems are receiving special attention this year, the need for a compulsory attendance law as one of the most important steps in progress is keenly recognized. Present and former State superintendents of education have urged the enactment of a suitable law.
State Superintendent W. F. Feagin declares in his annual report: "No one would question for a moment that the State has the right to compel the parent to feed and clothe his child, and to carry the law-breaking child to the reformatory or the jail to protect society. Has not the State an equal right to require the parent to send his child to school in order to save him from that reformatory or that jail and to make him a producer rather than a mere consumer of the wealth of the State? Alabama needs a form of compulsory education which should be as rigid and as progressive as our ability to cope with the situation will make possible."

Glen Stephenson, Harry Walker and Denham Harney expected to leave this morning for a two days' outing at Mantanza lake.

FIRST PAN-AMERICAN FINANCIAL CONFERENCE TO BEGIN MONDAY

EIGHTEEN COUNTRIES HAVE AC-CEPTED INVITATION.

Representatives of All the Nations of North, South and Central America, Except Canada and Mexico, Will Gather at Washington for Conference Tomorrow.

Washington, May 22—Representatives of all the countries of North, South and Central America, except Canada and Mexico, will meet Monday in the first Pan-American Financial Conference, designed to aid the commercial and banking interests of each to solve the many problems that confront them as a consequence of the European war.

Eighteen countries accepted the invitation of the United States to send representatives to the conference.

The delegates appointed from each come from chief industrial, commercial and financial interests. More than 200 prominent bankers and business men of the United States have been invited to participate.

The purposes of the conference have not been strictly defined but, broadly speaking, it is expected to take up problems of transportation, commerce and finance. Secretary McAdoo, who was active in arranging the meeting, hopes that from it will come a knowledge of conditions and inspiration which may lead to those closer relations between the United States and southern neighbors which long have been the aim of American diplomacy.

To Continue Six Days.

The conference itself will continue six days, but after its conclusion the delegates will be taken on a tour of some of the more important manufacturing and commercial centers.

Administration officials have spared no effort to insure success for the conference. Congress has appropriated $50,000 to make the visitors guests of the nation. President Wilson, Secretaries Bryan, McAdoo and Redfield, other members of the cabinet, members of the Federal Reserve Board, and members of the diplomatic corps will attend sessions of the conference which will begin Monday morning with an address of welcome by the President on behalf of the United States and another by Mr. Bryan on behalf of the State Department. One representative of each invited country is expected to respond briefly. At noon, the same day, the President will receive all delegates in the East Room at the White House, and the same night a larger reception will be given in their honor by Secretaries Bryan and McAdoo.

At the outset the conference will be divided into committees and there will be only a few general sessions.
There will be one committee for each country and five United States delegates will serve on each. The committees are counted upon to learn the real needs of the visitors and, when they desire, report their findings in an open session to all the others.

Some of Topics Suggested.

Although no attempt has been made in advance to lay down a definite program for the committee meetings, these are among the topics suggested.

"The present financial needs in national state and local governments; nature and character of public loans; how secured; rates of interest thereon; where such loans have heretofore been placed, and the price at which they have been sold;
possibility of placing such loans in the United States; effect of the European war on public revenues and expenditures; relation of decline of public revenues to guarantees of payment of interest and principal."

The normal and financial needs of public companies; present needs of such companies; character and nature of the bonds or obligations they have to offer, how secured, etc.; possible conditions of financing in the United States; effect of the European war on such companies; their financial conditions and needs.

Normal financial needs of commerce, such, for instance, as credit facilities; direct or dollar exchange; possibility of adapting commercial credits in the United States to the needs of the countries of Central and South America; effect of European war on the financing of foreign commerce.

Transportation between the United States and the country or countries concerned; improved postal service involved in money orders, parcel post, etc.

Sessions of the conference will be held in the Pan-American Union Building. While the conference is in session the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States will be in Washington to meet the visitors and give advice or assistance. The "get together spirit" which officials hope to foster will have an opportunity to show itself in full swing at the banquet in the honor of the visitors the night of May 29th at which most of the prominent men in diplomatic and official life in Washington will be present.

Itinerary of Trips.

ington over the next day and then

CIVIC LEAGUE WORKERS MET IN BLOOMINGTON

Conference Held for an Exchange of Experiences—Delegates Found Resume of Jacksonville League Very Interesting.

A district conference of civic league workers was held at Bloomington Saturday and was attended by women from a dozen different cities. An address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Jones of Bloomington and the president of the women's club there also joined in words of welcome. The special purpose of the conference was for an exchange of experiences in work done or attempted. Equal suffrage plans also had some part in the discussion but as indicated the particular purpose of the gathering was to seek to enlarge the scope of the work done by the leagues of the state through an exchange of experiences.

Among those who took part in the program were Mrs. Grace Wilbur, Mrs. Helen Stewart, Mrs. J. W. McGraw, Miss Margaret Dwyne, Mrs. J. H. Danskin, Mrs. Guy McCordy and Miss Annie Hinrichsen. Delegates were present from Danville, Springfield, Mackinaw, Streator, Minonk, Pontiac, Peoria and Normal. Miss Hinrichsen's theme was "State Alms House and Jail Inspection" and she urged especially the need there is for co-operative work between private charity workers and public officials. Mrs. J. H. Danskin gave a formal report of the work done by the Jacksonville civic league and it was heard with special interest because this city has excelled in organization and in things accomplished. The summary of the local league's activities was as follows:

The Jacksonville Women's Civic League was organized November, 1913, with the same officers that managed the local option campaign. In that campaign, the work was organized largely by the women. All the polling, with four thousand women and about the same number of men on the poll books, was done by them. Keeping count of the voters, getting the vote out early on election day, and all the minor details of the successful campaign were carried out by them. Schools of instruction for women voters were held before the election, with the result that there were few defaced or spoiled ballots.

Jacksonville being the first large town where the women voted after the suffrage bill went into effect, the eyes of the whole state were turned upon her with a great deal of interest. In this election November 4, 1913, 3632 women voted, 2981 voting dry. A number of the 650 wet votes cast by women were cast by women who thought to vote "No" was to vote against saloons. This campaign cost the women about $50 or, as the men put it, it cost a cent and a half apiece to get out nearly 3700 voters, which was going some, from an economical standpoint.

The city council of Jacksonville at this time was composed of a wet mayor, three wet and one dry commissioners. They called an election on the 21st of December on a bond issue for $50,000 to rebuild the electric light plant. The league took no decided stand on either side, it being an economical question. We held several meetings for debates on the question, informing the people. No attempt to get out the vote was made. A rainy Saturday morning, the last before Christmas, saw 2085 women's votes on an economical question; 1200 of these votes were against the bond issue and 885 for. The women were not opposed to spending that much money, but they would not allow the wet commissioners to spend it.

In March, 1914 the league caused by petition, the question to be submitted to the voters of Jacksonville of abrogating the old school charter governing our public schools and going under the general school law. A number of public meetings were held for the discussion of the question and much publicity work done by the members and executive committee of the league. No special effort was made to get out the vote, and a very light vote was polled, only 784 women and 1650 men voting. The general law was defeated two to one.

It is our experience that when the Jacksonville women get to house-cleaning in April, it is a poor time to hold an election. In this month, April, 1914, the officers and some of the members of the league helped the Chamber of Commerce to promote "Clean-up Week in Jacksonville". Systematic and hard work was done. A deficit in funds resulting, a moving picture show benefit, "Les Miserables", was given in the summer, which cleared up the debt.

We hold a membership in the Chamber of Commerce and co-operate with them in all moves for the betterment of Jacksonville in which they desire our assistance.

In November, 1914, it was brought to our attention that the gambling laws were being violated through the use of punch boards in the stores. This was teaching the young boys to gamble. Arrangements were made to visit the council and ask that the Anti-gambling laws should be enforced; but before we arrived, someone had told the commissioners that the Civic League was coming down, and the commissioner of public health and safety instructed the chief of police, who up to this time had been under instructions to keep his hands off the gambling devices, to order them out by Monday morning, so when we arrived, punch boards had been removed. By this time, we had been informed that the council contemplated the appointment of a member of the board of education, which they have the right to do under the special charter, who was considered not highly desirable by the members of the League, for the position of member of the board of education. So we proceeded to recommend four men who were fitted, as candidates for the position of member of the board of education. We did not succeed in our efforts in this line, but held the council down to 27 ballots before they had the courage to appoint the man that they had agreed upon. In the meantime, much beneficial advertising of the matter was done through the papers.

In January, a list of 50 well qualified and prominent women was recommended to the council as women judges in the coming primary and election. To the credit of the council be it said that of the 16 women judges appointed, one for each district, 10 were from our suggested list. These women judges and their clerks held several meetings to study and inform themselves upon the election laws and we considered their appointment very effective in arousing the women's interest and getting out the women's vote.

In November, the executive committee began to have meetings looking toward the spring municipal election. Lists of men fitted for office were gone over and a number of the most available interviewed and urged to become candidates. Several of these are now serving as city officers. It was deemed wise not to openly endorse any candidates, but after straw ballots had been taken in various bodies, a number of candidates were quietly worked for "The women of Jacksonville," as one newspaper puts it editorially, "are dry, aridly dry," and nothing but a set of dry officials for dry town looked good to them. The men of influence said, "Now, this is not a wet and dry fight, that is not the issue. Efficiency is the issue." And we answered, "The men can have any issue they want, but the women's issue is 'dry officials'."

Another thing the men said, and here they were also mistaken, was, "Now, you may expect the women to vote on candidates just as their husbands do." The Jacksonville newspapers, by the way, are extremely courteous to the women and their work. In October, one of them said editorially, under the head, "A Small Cloud in the Sky."

"This cloud, which at the present time barely shows above the western sky blue line, is nothing more or less than the Jacksonville composite woman. The woman will have as loud a voice in determining matters next spring as will the man. The woman is not as careless in her observations as is the man and she is not nearly as magnanimous in her overlooking of faults. She holds to account those who have sinned and she regards past performances as a prime indication of future doings.

"Women is entering the field for her first participation in municipal politics. He is a rash man who will refuse to regard her as a purifying factor. The women are our most valuable asset in our domestic and social lives. That she will prove to be the same in our political strivings cannot be doubted."

"The wise candidate will get his hair cut, wash his neck, put on his best dress and go courting the women. But, if he is sensible, he will not strive to put over any bunk. Fourflushing will not go. The candidate must promise to come clean and his promises will look good if his past record is good. Otherwise they will be regarded as the stirring up of heifer dust."

"We welcome the Jacksonville women to our political arms."

In the light of results, this seems to have been a prophetic vision on the part of the editor. In February the Civic League registered eight thousand voters. We worked for several weeks, correcting and perfecting these poll lists, and they were of great assistance to the election officers. The week before the primary, meetings were held in each of the 16 voting districts, with the design of getting out the women's vote. Systematic canvass was made of the town, to urge the women to vote. In each of these meetings, the one request was always made: "Tell us which of the 30 candidates were dry before the women voted."

Primary election day, March 9, dawned clear and bright, and workers were out early. Almost 2700 women voted, about 66 per cent of the registered voters; and about 75 per cent of the registered men voted. The three highest candidates were number one, two, and three with both men and women. Then came the divergence. There it candidate was fourth with the women and tenth with the men. The next one was fifth with the women and ninth with the men; the next was ninth with the women and fifth with the men; the next, seventh with the men and eighth with the men; the next was twelfth with the women, and fourth with the men. The next was thirteenth with the women and sixth with the men. The next was sixth with the women and fifteenth with the men. I mention this because it proves that Jacksonville women do not vote as the men do on candidates. This wide divergence between the men and women's vote is entirely traceable to the attitude of the candidates upon the wet and dry question.

The result of this primary was the out-and-out dry man and the out-and-out wet man were nominated for Mayor, with six dry men and two wet men as Commissioners. If the women alone had been voting, no wet man would have been a candidate for Commissioner.

In the pre-election campaign, an active but quiet effort was made for the dry men having the highest vote. Two of these failed of election, but two others equally dry were elected, and now Jacksonville has the driest of dry mayors and four arid Commissioners. There was but a light vote polled in the election, only 2940 men and 2830 women voting. This was due to two things: one, the feeling that the dry ticket had a walk away and was too sure of election to bother about and on the women's part, a frenzy of house cleaning had struck Jacksonville, which was hard to overcome. The women gave the dry Mayor, Henry J. Rodgers, a majority of almost 1000 votes, which, with the 300 majority the men gave him, elected him by the largest majority ever given a mayor in Jacksonville.

One of the things we assured these men before and after the election, was that we women would not sit idly by while laws for the good of the town on the statute books were not enforced, and we immersed upon them that we should ask that the town be cleaned up. The United States government inspector has said that Jacksonville has the smallest red light district of any town of its size in the country. This ed. The three highest candidates were number one, two, and three with both men and women. Then came the divergence. There it candidate was fourth with the women and tenth with the men. The next one was fifth with the women and ninth with the men; the next was ninth with the women and fifth with the men; the next, seventh with the

JURY RETURNS VERDICT IN FAVOR OF FORMER PRESIDENT

Believes Everything Roosevelt Said About Former Chairman Was True and Therefore Barnes Was not Labeled.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 22—The jury chosen to determine whether Theodore Roosevelt libeled William Barnes charged that Barnes worked through a "corrupt alliance between crooked business and crooked politics," and that he was "corruptly allied with Charles F. Murphy of Tammany hall," today returned a verdict in favor of the former president. In the belief of the jury everything Colonel Roosevelt said about the former chairman of the Republican state committee was true and therefore Mr. Barnes was not libeled.

The verdict was returned after the jury had considered for 42 hours the evidence which was presented during five weeks of the trial. Colonel Roosevelt declared the jury to be "typically American."

Mr. Barnes was not in court and neither was his chief counsel, William M. Evans, when the verdict was returned. The colonel was there, however, with his staff of counsel, some time before Justice Andrews ascended the bench and opened court.

JACKSONVILLE AS SEEN FROM THE OUTSIDE

ago and came as a great surprise from one who has not been in Jacksonville for many years and is selected for its peculiar relation to recent local discussion. It is as follows:

"In order to try to insure to myself a reply and also satisfy a latent curiosity which has been with me ever since I was connected with the public school system of Jacksonville, as— I would like to ask about your present organization. I remember that you spent a good deal of time and money in those days in trying to get the school system under the general school law. If I remember correctly you and Will Phillips and a few other interested spirits finally got the matter into the courts and tied up my salary and that sturdy, hard-headed and often misguided friend of the schools,
George Smith, finally beat you out.
Those were great days when each member carried 'his ward' as a chip on his shoulder daring anybody, God, man or teacher, to knock it off at his peril. I suppose all of that is changed long ago. It was certainly the most vicious system ever and the wonder is that 'we so called educators' and a long suffering public stood for it so long. I used to be very sorry for the deluded individual who toted the title of superintendent when as a matter of fact he only carried messages and orders from the school board composed of three or four 'educational ignoramus' to the teachers. You must excuse my harsh expressions but I have not reminded on this subject for years and now as my experiences of those early days come back I feel a little moisture around my collar as I think of the way public education was conducted in the sacred precincts of 'Classic Jacksonville.' How few remain now to whom I could send a message and yet how dear are the memories of those days of my beginnings in the educational field. I wonder if any of 'his ward' masquerading under the title of 'member of the school board' are still alive. Their political activities far overshadowed their educational ability but they gave their orders to the superintendent just the same. God bless them!
They certainly made my life miserable."

In buying CREX "don't be Sold"

When you ask for a CREX rug be sure you get one.
"Be from Missouri"—make the salesman show the name CREX on the side binding. If it isn't there it isn't a CREX. If it isn't a CREX you are being cheated.

Substitutes are sold—and so are the purchasers. When a dealer tries to sell you another grass rug as being "just as good," it is because he is making a larger profit on an inferior article.

CREX was the first wire-grass rug made and is still first in durability, beauty and sanitary perfection. Clean, cool, inexpensive—yet always dependable.

Holds no dirt nor germs. Needs no beating—simply shaking. Made in a variety of artistic designs and colors, and in various sizes.

BEWARE OF ALL SUBSTITUTES. Shun the cheap Japanese rugs of questionable sanitation; they have been aptly called the "yellow peril."

Get our beautiful illustrated 1915 catalog "CREX in the HOME" from your dealer or write us direct for free copy.
